

The New EU Directive on Mediation
First Insights

Association for International Arbitration (ed.)

Maklu
Antwerpen/Apeldoorn

TABEL OF CONTENTS

Introduction	7
--------------	---

Philippe Billiet – Ewa Kurlanda

An Introduction to the Directive on Certain Aspects of Mediation in Civil and Commercial Matters	9
1 Introduction	9
2 The rise of the pro-mediation idea in Europe	10
3 Directive 2008/52/EC on certain aspects of mediation in civil and commercial matters.	13
3.1 Aims, Ways and Scope	13
3.2 The key rules of the Directive	16
3.2.1 Ensuring the quality of mediation	16
3.2.2 Recourse to mediation	17
3.2.3 Agreements resulting from mediation	17
3.2.5 Effect of mediation on limitation and prescription periods	19
3.2.6 Information for the general public	20
3.3 Final date to implement	20
3.4 Discussion of the new Directive	20
3.4.1 Mediation can become overstressed	20
3.4.2 Incomplete provisions	21
3.4.3 Importance	21
4 Conclusion	22

Frank Fleerackers

The Role of Lawyers in Interaction: Mediation, ADR and Legal Thinking	25
1 Introduction	25
2 Core text	26
3 Conclusion	34

Ivan Verougstraete

Judges and Mediation	37
1 Introduction	37
2 Some definitions	38
3 The actual Belgian legal system and the directive	40
3.1 The statutory law	40
3.2 The directive	40
3.3 Concluding	41
4 Judges as mediators: the pro's en contra's	42
5 The role of the judge in the referral to mediation and in the execution of the agreement	43
6 The real issue: judges and conciliation	45

Phillip Howell-Richardson

The European Mediation Directive and some Thoughts on the Principles involved in Dealing with the Problems surrounding Mediation Confidentiality	47
1 Introduction	47
2 To what will the Directive apply?	47
3 What are the key provisions?	48
3.1 Facilitation and promotion	49
3.2 Establishing a sound framework for the relationship between the courts and the mediation process.	49
4 Conclusion	53

William E. O'Brian Jr

Lessons for the European Union from Mediation in the United States	55
1 Introduction	55
2 U.S. Litigation	56
3 U.S. Mediation	59
3.1 Insurance Considerations	62
3.2 Steps in a Typical U.S. Mediation	63
4 The E.U. Directive	64

Mingqian Li – Philippe Billiet

The Evolution of Mediation<sup>1</sup> in China	67
1 Introduction	67
2 Typical features of traditional mediation in (ancient) China	68
2.1 Characteristics	68
2.1.1 Given application conditions	68
2.1.2 Special mediation basis	68
2.1.3 Compulsory mediation process	68
2.1.4 Flexible mediation measures	69
2.1.5 Direct mediation purpose	69
2.2 Factors which shaped this traditional form of mediation	69
2.3 Limitations on the traditional mediation practice	70
3 The current mediation practice in China	70
3.1 The transformation to the current mediation practice	70
3.2 Actual problems with mediation in China	72
3.3 Cultural reasons for overvaluing mediation in China	73
4 The Chinese mediation practice and the new EU Mediation Directive	74
5 Conclusion	75

Annexes

Annex 1: Directive 2008/52/EC on certain aspects of mediation in civil and commercial matters	77
Annex 2: European Code of Conduct for Mediators	83
Annex 3: Model Standards of Conduct for Mediators	87