The Treatment of Combatants and Insurgents Under the Law of Armed Conflict

Emily Crawford

Oxford University Press
Detailed Contents

Table of Abbreviations
[Page xiii]

Table of Cases
[Page xviii]

Table of Treaties, Legislation, and International Documents
[Page xxii]

Introduction

1. The Evolution of Armed Conflict in the Twentieth Century and the International Legal Response—Towards Convergence
   - Introduction
   - New Means and Methods for Waging War
     - The Industrialization of Warfare from the American Civil War to World War Two
     - Changes in Methods of Waging War
   - The Change in Typology of Armed Conflict in the Modern Era
     - National Liberation Wars
     - The Rise in Frequency of Internal Armed Conflicts
     - Increasing Civilian Casualties
     - Internationalized Armed Conflict
   - The Modern Laws of Armed Conflict
     - The Geneva Conventions of 1949
     - Common Article 3: Rules for Non-International Armed Conflicts
     - The Additional Protocols of 1977
     - The Post-Protocols Treaties
     - The Growth of International Criminal Tribunals
   - The Development of the Customary Law of Non-International Armed Conflicts—Fundamental Principles of IHL and their Customary Status in Non-International Armed Conflicts
     - Principle of Distinction
     - Prohibition on Indiscriminate Attacks
     - The Principle of Proportionality in Attack
     - The Principle of Military Necessity
     - Prohibition on Causing Unnecessary Suffering
   - The General Trend of Invoking IHL Obligations without Making the Distinction as the Source of the Obligation
     - State Practice
     - UN General Assembly and Security Council Resolutions
     - Resolutions of Inter-Governmental Bodies
Contents

Judicial Guarantees for Detainees in Internal Armed Conflicts 100

Judicial Guarantees in Common Article 3 and Protocol II 101

Trial by an Independent, Impartial and Regularly Constituted Court (Articles 84 and 102, GCIII) 102

Individual Criminal Responsibility and the Prohibition on Collective Punishments (Article 87, GCIII) 102

The Principle of Legality—Nullum Crimen Sine Lege (Article 99, GCIII) 102

Right to be Informed of the Charges (Articles 104–5, GCIII) 103

Prohibition on Compelling the Accused to Testify or Confess (Article 99, GCIII) 103

Rights and Means of Defence (Article 105, GCIII) 103

Right to Fair Trial through Due Process (Article 105, GCIII) 103

Right of Appeal (Article 106, GCIII) 103

Termination of Captivity—A Combatant Immunity for Internal Armed Conflicts? 104

Amnesty as ex post facto Combatant Immunity 104

Amnesty and Serious Violations of IHL 109

Amnesty and Transitional Justice 111

Additional UN Guidelines for the Treatment of Prisoners 112

Conclusions 116

---

4 Completing the Picture: International Human Rights Law in Non-International Armed Conflicts 118

Introduction 118

The Place of International Human Rights Law in Times of Armed Conflict 121

International Human Rights Law Obligations of Parties to a Non-International Armed Conflict 126

International Human Rights Law Protections for Persons Deprived of their Liberty 129

- Non-Discrimination 129
- Humane Treatment 130
- Special Regard for Women 135
- Recording Identification Details of Persons Deprived of Their Liberty 136
- Detention in Healthful and Sanitary Facilities, Including Access to Medical Facilities 137
- Detainee Discipline 138
- Working Conditions 139
- Religious, Intellectual, and Physical Activities 139
- Contact with the Exterior, including Access to Relief Agencies 140
Contents

Judicial Guarantees 141
Termination of Captivity—Release and Repatriation 152
Conclusions 152

5 Achieving a Universal Combatant Status 153

Introduction 153

Combatant Immunity and POW Status—The Rationale for a Unified Law 154

- Humanitarian Considerations 156
- Encouraging Reciprocal Application of IHL 157
- Post-War Reconstruction and Reconciliation 158
- Ease of Applicability of Rules of IHL 160
- In the Interests of States to Detain Insurgents 161

A Model for a Uniform Application of the Law of Armed Conflict to All Participants 162

- What Situations Would the Law Cover? 163
- What Would Such a Law Comprise? 164
- What Criteria Would Need to be Met? 165
- A Model Uniform Law 168

Conclusions 170

Bibliography 175

Index 211