

	Preface	xiii
	Acknowledgements	xiv
Part I	Agricultural policy analysis
1	Market, state and policy	3
	Overview	3
	Market, policy and state	6
	State versus market	8
	Peasants and policies	13
	Summary	14
	Further reading	16
	Reading list	16
2	Policy analysis: Framework	17
	Objectives, constraints, instruments	17
	Policy as a linear process: A critical view	21
	Concepts in applied welfare economics	24
	Summary	26
	Further reading	28
	Reading list	28
3	Policy analysis: Economics	29
	Scope and tasks of policy analysis	29
	Revision of elasticities	31
	Producer and consumer surplus	35
	World prices and opportunity cost	46
	Examples of policy intervention effects	49
	Private, economic and social prices	55
	Summary measures of price policy effects	57
	Summary	59
	Further reading	61
	Reading list	61

Part II	Agricultural policies
	Introduction	65
4	Price policy	67
	Farm output price policy	67
	Objectives of output price policy	69
	Instruments of price policy	70
	Criteria for determining price levels	73
	Impact and effectiveness of price policy	81
	Lessons of price policy experience	88
	Price policy and women	90
	Summary	91
	Further reading	93
	Reading list	93
5	Marketing policy	95
	Marketing policy	95
	Concepts in the study of marketing	96
	Objectives of marketing policy	100
	Instruments of marketing policy	101
	Policy analysis of marketing systems	104
	Lessons of marketing policy experience	116
	Peasants and marketing	119
	Marketing policy and women	120
	Summary	121
	Further reading	123
	Reading list	124
6	Input policy	125
	Variable input policies	125
	Objectives of input policy	126
	Instruments of input policy	128
	Input policy problems and debates	131
	Fertilizer policy	136
	Lessons of input policy	146
	Input policy and women	147
	Summary	148
	Further reading	150
	Reading list	150
7	Credit policy	152
	Credit and rural financial markets	152
	Objectives of old credit policy	155
	Institutions of old credit policy	156
	Instruments of old credit policy	158
	Defects of old credit policy	160
	New objectives and new instruments	163
	Institutional innovations	167

A note on the pace of change	168
Peasants, moneylenders and credit policy	169
Credit policy and women	170
Summary	171
Further reading	173
Reading list	173
8 Mechanisation policy	175
Farm mechanisation: Definition and concerns	175
Economic concepts of mechanisation	176
Farm tractors: Propositions and evidence	180
Policy failures and effects	182
Sequences and diversity of mechanisation	184
Towards consistent mechanisation policies	186
Mechanisation and peasants	188
Mechanisation policy and women	189
Summary	190
Further reading	192
Reading list	192
9 Land reform policy	194
Introduction	194
Nature, scope and definitions	195
Objectives of land reform	197
Paths of change in land tenure	200
Instruments of land reform	204
Problems of implementation	207
Lessons from the historical experience	209
Current and future relevance	210
Peasants and land reform	212
Land reform policy and women	213
Summary	214
Further reading	217
Reading list	217
10 Research policy	219
Research policy	219
Organisation of formal research	222
Supply and demand for innovations: Alternative models	225
Farming systems research	232
Farmer first research	237
Goals and priorities of research	238
Economic evaluation of research impact	242
Research policy and women	247
Summary	248
Further reading	251
Reading list	251

11	Irrigation policy	254
	Irrigation policy	254
	Objectives of irrigation policy	256
	Irrigation types and choice of technology	258
	Economic concepts for irrigation policy	262
	Irrigation management and water charges	266
	Irrigation in resource-poor environments	272
	Irrigation policy and women	273
	Summary	273
	Further reading	276
	Reading list	276
	Comparative summary	278
Part III	Cross-cutting themes
12	Women and agricultural policies	285
	Invisible to policy	285
	Determinants of policy impacts on women	286
	Comparative summary of policy effects on women	290
	Towards gender-aware agricultural policies	297
	Summary	299
	Further reading	300
	Reading list	301
13	Food policy and food security	302
	Scope and definition of food policy	302
	Evolution of concepts	305
	Food security	310
	Food policy instruments	312
	Food aid	316
	Summary	319
	Further reading	321
	Reading list	322
14	Policies in perspective	323
	Market, state and policies	324
	Framework and methods of analysis	325
	Agricultural policies	326
	Women and policies	333
	Food policy and food security	333
	Conclusion	335
	References	336
	Author index	349
	Subject index	353