

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
List of Tables	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction	1
1. Conceptualizing Poor Women, Household Dynamics, and Industrialization	7
2. Industrial and Agrarian Change in Java	30
3. Javanese Women and the Family	54
4. The Villages	73
5. The Factories	109
6. Life in a Spinning Mill	137
7. Determinants of Factory Employment	159
8. Factory Daughters and the Family Economy	179
9. Marriage	209
10. The Family Economy Revisited: Daughters, Work, and the Life Cycle	231
Conclusion	251

Appendix	269
Notes	275
Glossary of Indonesian and Javanese Words	297
Bibliography	299
Index	317

Illustrations

FIGURES

1. Hierarchical Structure of LamaTex	141
2. Variables Affecting Decision to Seek Factory Employment	271

MAP

The Republic of Indonesia	32
---------------------------	----

Photographs following page 108

Tables

1. Comparative Indicators of Industrialization in Indonesia and Selected Asian Developing Countries	38
2. Approved Export-Oriented Investment, 1986-89	39
3. Wages per Hour for Female Workers	41
4. Distribution of Employed Persons in Java According to the 1961, 1971 (Series C), and 1980 Censuses	43
5. Population and Land in the Research Site	82
6. Agricultural Work and Wages by Sex	84
7. Population by Class Status and Land Distribution in Two Villages	89
8. Access to Resources and House Types by Class Status in Nuwun	91
9. Primary Occupation of Household Heads by Class Status in Agricultural Villages	92
10. Comparison of Agricultural and Industrialized Villages	100
11. Structure of Occupations by Sex in Agricultural and Industrialized Villages	102
12. The Factories: Ownership, Management, and Work Force	113
13. Age and Marital Status of Female Workers	115
14. Comparative Buying Power of Asian Women	118
15. Age and Marital Status of Female Workers at LamaTex	143
16. Social Indicators of Factory and Nonfactory Village Females in Nuwun	162
17. Relationship of Respondent to Head of Household	163

18. Household Characteristics	164
19. Dependency and Consumer-Worker Ratios	165
20. Crosstabulation of Class and Factory Employment	167
21. Class Status, Factory Employment, and Childbearing	169
22. Selected Expenditures as Proportions of Salary	182
23. Workers' Net Contribution to Family Economy	183
24. Contribution to Family Income by Selected Commuters	185
25. Comparative Incomes of a Factory Worker and a Wage Laborer	202
26. Changes in Factory Work Status, 1982-86	210
27. Selected Land Tenure Categories of Factory Workers and Nonfactory Households	269
28. Primary Occupations of Household Members by Factory Work Status	270
29. Probability of Working in a Factory: Results from Logistic Regression	272
30. Correlation Matrix	274