

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 Origins	9
 Part I Constructing the subject
2 Researching infancy	23
3 Attributing sociality	35
4 Discourses of the child	48
 Part II Social development and the structure of caring
5 Familiar assumptions	65
6 Bonds of love – dilemmas of attachment	77
7 The rise of ‘fathering’	94
 Part III Developing communication
8 Language talk	107
9 Discourses of caregiving talk	124
10 Language and power in developmental research	138
 Part IV Cognitive development: the making of rationality
11 The production of Piagetian psychology	151
12 Piaget and child-centred education	163
13 Morality and the goals of development	177
References	190
Name index	207
Subject index	212