

CONTENTS

Series Editors' Introduction	vii
1. The Study of Interaction	1
Introduction	1
Conversation Analysis	2
Early Developments and Precedents	3
The Critique of Category Systems	8
Limitations of Goffman's Approach	10
Transcribing Interaction	11
2. Discovering Sequences in Interaction	13
Extended Sequences	21
3. Sequence and Structure in Interaction	27
Identification and Recognition in Telephone
Conversation Openings	27
Turn-Taking Organization in Conversation	34
Compliments and Compliment Responses	39
4. The Methodological Perspective of Conversation Analysis	45
5. Talk and Social Structure	54
Calls to Emergency	58
Perspective Display Sequences	61
6. Conclusion	67
Appendix: Transcription Symbols	70
References	79
About the Author	85