

Contents

Preface	vii
Part I: The Development of Family Communication Patterns	1
1. Communication in Infancy Marguerite Stevenson Barratt	5
2. The Socialization of Person-Centered Communication: Parents' Contributions to Their Children's Social-Cognitive and Communication Skills Brant R. Burleson, Jesse G. Delia, and James L. Applegate	34
3. Parent-Adolescent Relationships Patricia Noller	77
4. Accounts and the Demystification of Courtship Catherine A. Surra, Michelle L. Batchelder, and Debra K. Hughes	112
Part II: Family Relationships in Process	143
5. How Parenthood Affects Marriage Ted L. Huston and Anita L. Vangelisti	147
6. Family Interaction During Problem Solving Samuel Vuchinich and Joseph Angelelli	177

7. Family Conflict, Divorce, and Children's Adjustment	206
Susan Gano-Phillips and Frank D. Fincham
8. Postdivorce Relations	232
Sandra Metts and William R. Cupach
Part III: Extending Family Boundaries	253
9. Communication in Three Types of Dual-Career Marriages	257
Lawrence B. Rosenfeld, Gary L. Bowen, and Jack M. Richman
10. Communication Patterns in Stepfamilies: Redefining Family Roles, Themes, and Conflict Styles	290
Nancy A. Burrell
11. Communication, Gender, and Power: Homosexual Couples as a Case Study	310
Sara Steen and Pepper Schwartz
12. The Aging Family	344
Marie-Louise Mares
13. Communication and Family Culture	375
Alan L. Sillars
Index	400
About the Editors	415
About the Contributors	417