

Contents

---

Preface	xi
1. Commodification as a Worldview	1
2. Market-Inalienability	16
3. Problems for the Idea of a Market Domain	30
4. Compartmentalization: Attempting to Delineate a Market Domain	46
5. Personhood and the Dialectic of Contextuality	54
6. Human Flourishing and Market Rhetoric	79
7. Incomplete Commodification	102
8. Conceptual Recapitulation	115
9. The Double Bind	123
10. Prostitution and Baby-Selling: Contested Commodification and Women's Capacities	131
11. Commodification, Objectification, and Subordination	154
12. Free Expression	164
13. Compensation	184
14. Democracy	206
Notes	225
Index	271