

Contents

Epigram

Robin Morgan
Monster

xv

Foreword

Diane Bell and Renate Klein

Beware: Radical Feminists Speak, Read, Write, Organise,
Enjoy Life, and Never Forget

xvii

Section 1: Speaking Radically

Inés Talamantez

Women of all Nations

3

Robin Morgan

Light Bulbs, Radishes, and the Politics of the 21st Century

5

Robyn Rowland and Renate Klein

Radical Feminism: History, Politics, Action

9

Joy James

Experience, Reflection, Judgment and Action:
Teaching Theory, Talking Community

37

Catharine A. MacKinnon

From Practice to Theory, or What is a White Woman
Anyway?

45

Ngahuia Te Awekotuku

Maori-Lesbian-Feminist Radical

55

Angela Bowen
Enabling a Visible Black Lesbian Presence in Academia: A Radically Reasonable Request	62
Pat Mahony and Christine Zmroczek
Working-Class Radical Feminism: Lives Beyond the Text	67
Robyn Rowland
Politics of Intimacy: Heterosexuality, Love and Power	77
Louise Armstrong
The Great Incest Hijack	87
Celia Kitzinger
Therapy and How it Undermines the Practice of Radical Feminism	92
Jocelynne A. Scutt
The Personal is Political	102
Morny Joy
Looking for God in All the Wrong Places: Feminists Seeking the Radical Questions in Religion	111
Suzanne Bellamy
The Narrow Bridge of Art and Politics	126
Angela Bowen
Take Your Pageant and Shove It	135

Section Two: Radical Feminists Under Attack

Marcia Ann Gillespie
The Posse Rides Again	141
Diane Richardson
“Misguided, Dangerous and Wrong”: On the Maligning of Radical Feminism	143
Tania Lienert
On Who is Calling Radical Feminists “Cultural Feminists” and Other Historical Sleights of Hand	155

Ailbhe Smyth
A (Political) Postcard from a Peripheral Pre-Post-modern State (of Mind) or How Alliteration and Parentheses can Knock you down Dead in Women's Studies	169
Victoria Robinson and Diane Richardson
Repackaging Women and Feminism: Taking the Heat Off Patriarchy	179
Kathleen Barry
Deconstructing Deconstructionism (or, Whatever Happened to Feminist Studies?)	188
Deirdre Carraher, Sharon Cox, Elizabeth Daake, Michele Gagne, Patricia Good, Jessie McManmon, and Marjorie O'Connor
"Generation X", the "Third Wave", or Just Plain Radical: Reviewing the Reviewers of Catharine MacKinnon's Only Words	193
Andrea Dworkin
Dworkin on Dworkin	203
Catharine A. MacKinnon and Andrea Dworkin
Statement on Canadian Customs and Legal Approaches to Pornography	218
Ellen Travis
Stranger than Fiction: The Backlash on Campus at the University of Victoria	222
Janice G. Raymond
Connecting Reproductive and Sexual Liberalism	231
Diane Bell
Speaking of Things that Shouldn't be Written: Cross-cultural Excursions into the Land of Misrepresentations	247
Uta Enders-Dragässer and Brigitte Sellach
Educational Research De-Radicalized: A Warning from Germany	254
Pauline Bart
The Banned Professor or, How Radical Feminism Saved Me from Men Trapped in Men's Bodies and Female Impersonators, with a Little Help from my Friends	262
Sandra Coney
The Last Post for Feminism	275

Section Three: Radical Feminists “Interrogate” Post-modernism

Susan Hawthorne
Deconstructing Fashion	279
Kristin Waters
(Re)turning to the Modern: Radical Feminism and the Post-modern Turn	280
Somer Brodribb
Nothing Mat(t)ers	297
Barbara Christian
The Race for Theory	311
Charlene Spretnak
The Disembodied Worldview of Deconstructive Post-modernism	321
Denise Thompson
The Self-contradiction of “Post-modernist” Feminism	325
Katja Mikhailovich
Post-modernism and its “Contribution” to Ending Violence Against Women	339
Renate Klein
(Dead) Bodies Floating in Cyberspace: Post-modernism and the Dismemberment of Women	346
Sheila Jeffreys
Return to Gender: Post-modernism and Lesbianandgay Theory	359
Sue Wilkinson and Celia Kitzinger
The Queer Backlash	375
Christine Delphy
“French Feminism”: An Imperialist Invention	383
Joan Hoff
The Pernicious Effect of Post-structuralism on Women’s History	393
Somer Brodribb
Withdrawing her Energy	413
Carol Anne Douglas
I’ll Take the Low Road: A Look at Contemporary Feminist Theory	417

Section Four: Refusing to be Silenced

Yenlin Ku

- Selling a Feminist Agenda on a Conservative Market:
The Awakening Experience in Taiwan 423

Diana Russell

- US Pornography Invades South Africa 429

Teboho E. Maitse

- The Past is the Present: Thoughts from the New South Africa 436

Tatyana Mamonova

- Freedom and Democracy: Russian Male Style 441

Kathleen Barry

- Pornography and the Global Sexual Exploitation of Women 448

Natalie Nenadic

- Femicide: A Framework for Understanding Genocide 456

Evelyne Accad

- Truth versus Loyalty 465

Marjorie Agosin

- Through the Smoke We Remember:
Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo 470

Evelina Giobbe

- The Market Place of Ideas 479

Section Five: Feminism Reclaimed

Susan Hawthorne

- From Theories of Indifference to a Wild Politics 483

Santa Barbara Rape Crisis Center/Centro Contra la Violación

- Declaración de Propósito/Mission Statement 502

Powhiri Rika-Heke and Sigrid Markmann

- Common Language: Different Cultures 505

Nganampa Health Council
Our Health Project	516
UBINIG
Declaration of People's Perspectives on "Population" Symposium	519
Mahnaz Afkhami
Towards Global Feminism: A Muslim Perspective	525
Cathie Dunsford, Beryl Fletcher, Susan Sayer
Surfing the Edge of the Alphabet	528
Berit Ås
A Feminist University: The Thrill and Challenges, Conflicts and Rewards of Trying to Establish an Alternative Education	535
Jalna Hanmer
Taking Ourselves Seriously	546
Mary Daly
The Witches Return: Patriarchy on Trial	551
Robyn Rowland
The Burying of Hughes	557

A Po-mo Quiz	558
Bibliography	562
Notes on Contributors	607
Index	617