

Table of Contents

Preface	vii
The link: Philosophy-psychopathology-phenomenology Josef Parnas & Dan Zahavi	1
PART I
An ecological perspective on the self and its development George Butterworth	19
The phenomenology and ontology of the self Galen Strawson	39
Self and consciousness Dan Zahavi	55
The place for an ego in current research Eduard Marbach	75
PART II
On understanding schizophrenia Naomi Eilan	97
The self and intentionality in the pre-psychotic stages of schizophrenia: A phenomenological study Josef Parnas	115
Schizophrenia, self-experience, and the so-called 'negative symptoms' Louis Sass	149
PART III
Monitoring the self in schizophrenia: The role of internal models Sarah-Jayne Blakemore	185
Self-reference and schizophrenia: A cognitive model of immunity to error through misidentification Shaun Gallagher	203

PART IV

Questionable psychopathology	243
John Cutting
Pathological selves	257
Michael Schwartz and Osborne Wiggins
The phenomenology of the social self: The schizotype and the melancholic type	279
Giovanni Stanghellini
Index	295