

Contents

Contributors	viii
Introduction: Debating biology	1
SIMON J. WILLIAMS, LYNDIA BIRKE AND GILLIAN A. BENDELOW
PART I
Theorizing biology: Critical perspectives	13
1 Evolution and human disease: Bridging the biology/ culture gap	15
BASIRO DAVEY
2 Ultra-Darwinism and health: The limits to evolutionary psychology	27
PAUL HIGGS AND IAN REES JONES
3 Shaping biology: Feminism and the idea of 'the biological'	39
LYNDIA BIRKE
4 Realist agendas on biology, health and medicine: Some thoughts and reflections	53
GRAHAM SCAMBLER AND SASHA SCAMBLER
PART II
Structuring biology: Inequalities in health	67
5 Biology, social class and inequalities in health: Their synthesis in 'health capital'	69
MILDRED BLAXTER

6 Gender and health status: Does biology matter?	84
ELLEN ANNANDALE
7 Ethnicity and health: Biological and social inheritance	96
DAVID KELLEHER AND BRIAN HALL
8 The 'biological clock'? Ageing, health and the body across the lifecourse	109
MIKE BURY AND MIKE WADSWORTH

PART III

Embodying biology: Corporeal matters 121

9 The problem with sex/gender and nature/nurture	123
ANNE FAUSTO-STERLING
10 Childhood bodies: Constructionism and beyond	133
SIMON J. WILLIAMS AND GILLIAN A. BENDELOW
11 Hormonal bodies, civilized bodies: Incorporating the biological into the sociology of health	145
LEE F. MONAGHAN
12 Incorporating the biological: Chronic illness, bodies, selves, and the material world	157
LOUISE M. MILLWARD AND MICHAEL P. KELLY
13 'Liminal' bodies? Sleep, death and dying	169
SIMON J. WILLIAMS

PART IV

Technologizing/medicalizing biology: A Brave New World? 183

14 Investing in mothering: Reproduction, sex selective technologies and biological capital in an Indian case study	185
MARSHA HENRY
15 Rights, risks and responsibilities: New genetics and disabled people	198
TOM SHAKESPEARE

16 A normal biological process? Brittle bones, HRT and the patient–doctor encounter	210
FRANCES GRIFFITHS AND EILEEN GREEN
17 Enhancing biology? Cosmetic surgery and breast augmentation	223
PETER CONRAD AND HEATHER T. JACOBSON
18 Through the lenses of biology and sociology: Organ replacement	235
RENÉE C. FOX
19 Prozac nation and the biochemical self: A critique	245
NICK CROSSLEY
PART V
Reclaiming biology: (Bio)ethics and beyond	259
20 The bioethics of biotechnology: Alternative claims of posthuman futures	261
ARTHUR W. FRANK
21 Biology, vulnerability and politics	271
BRYAN TURNER
22 Ecology, health and society: A red–green perspective	283
TED BENTON
23 A metaphysics for alternative medicine: ‘Translating’ the social and biological worlds	298
ANNE SCOTT
Index	311