

Table of Contents

Introduction		1
--------------	--	---

Baudelaire

Chapter 1	Romanticism and Modernity	17
I.	“The Salon of 1845” and the Search for Originality	17
II.	“The Salon of 1846” and Poetic Criticism	20
III.	Toward a New Romanticism	25
IV.	Capturing Modernity: Some Theories	33
V.	The Impact of Stendhal	39
VI.	The Artist as the Painter of Modern Life	42

Chapter 2	Decadence	53
I.	Dandyism: Baudelaire, Foucault, and Camus	53
II.	Critique of Progress in the Realm of the Arts: “The Universal Exhibition of 1855”	61
III.	Attempt at a Re-evaluation of Decadence	64
IV.	Against the Grain: Edgar Allen Poe	67
V.	Artificiality	78

Chapter 3	Richard Wagner	87
I.	Wagner’s Situation in France in 1860	87
II.	Baudelaire’s Letter	89
III.	The Essay on the Tannhäuser	92

Nietzsche

Chapter 4	Romanticism and Modernity	107
I.	The Question of Romanticism in Nietzsche	107

II.	The Birth of Tragedy: Communication and Concealment	111
III.	The Tragedy: Classical Versus Romantic	118
IV.	Decline of Vitality: Critique of Modernity with Euripides and Socrates	122
V.	The Alexandrian Culture or the Illusion of Progress	126
VI.	Modern Life or the Unbearable Weight of Theoretical Knowledge	131
Chapter 5	Decadence	143
I.	A Question of Perspectives	143
II.	Two Kinds of Pessimism	147
III.	From Romantic Pessimism to Decadence: France	153
IV.	Theory of Decadence	158
Chapter 6	Richard Wagner	169
I.	A Collision of "Stars"	169
II.	A Question of Modern Optics	174
III.	Nietzsche's Paradox	179
Bibliography		189
Index		199