

Contents

---

Introduction: The Rhetoric of Boredom	1
Experience, 1
Discourse, 11
History, 18

PART I: THE RHETORIC OF EXPERIENCE

1. Ennui in Western Literature: Boredom as Existential Malaise	33
Boredom and History, 33 Narrating Malaise: History and the Rhetoric of Reflection, 35 Ennui and Enlightenment, 41 Ennui, Literature, and the Making of Western Man, 46 The Philosophical Rhetoric of Experience, 53 Housewife, Worker, Native: Boredom as Mimesis, 55
2. The Normalization of Anomie: Boredom as Sociological Symptom	65
Boredom and Culture, 65 Anomie and Deviance: Subjective Malaise as an Object of Social Science, 68 History, Structure, and Subjective Malaise, 79 Work, Leisure, and Modern Subjectivity, 87 The Modern Rhetoric of Reflection on Subjective Malaise, 94
3. Boredom and the Modernization of Subjectivity	101
Introduction: Boredom and the Rhetoric of Experience, 101 Defining Boredom: Etymology and the Modernization of Reflection on Subjective Malaise, 107 Boredom, Romanticism, and the Temporality of Progress, 120 The Doctor and the Poet: Romanticism, Skepticism, and the Medicalization of Malaise, 129 Power, Knowledge, and Fatigue: The Materialist Rhetoric of Reflection on Subjective Experience, 140 The Fate of Desire: Boredom as Negative Revelation, 156 Ennui as Fatigue: Disenchantment in the Capital of the Nineteenth Century, 160 Boredom, Literary Culture and the Democratization of Leisure, 168 Madame Bovary: Boredom and the Crisis of Romantic Self-Reflection, 184 Language, Irony, and Artistic Transcendence, 201 Refiguring Malaise: Baudelaire and the Experience of Modernity, 214 Ennui as Vice and Fate, 223 Representing Boredom: Spleen and Modernité, 235

PART II: THE RHETORIC OF REFLECTION

4. Georg Simmel's Phenomenology of Modern Skepticism 249
 A Philosopher of Modernity, 249 Boredom and the Problem of Meaning in Modernity, 256 Rationalizing the Self: The Forms of Subjective Experience in Modernity, 264
5. Martin Heidegger's Existential Grammar of Boredom 281
 Boredom and the Search for Philosophical Renewal, 285 The Emergence of the Problem of Boredom, 289 Mood and the Rhetoric of Reflection, 298 The Rhetoric of Mood and the Renewal of Philosophy, 305 The Phenomenology of Boredom, 312
6. Being without Qualities: Robert Musil and the Self-Overcoming of Skepticism 334
 Beyond Boredom: Life as Experiment, 344 "An Immanent Depiction of the Time": Musil's Historical Irony, 353 Disenchantment and Reflection: The Man without Qualities as a Man of His Times, 364 It's Like Being without Qualities: Musil's Ironic Metaphorics of Modernity, 369 Narrating Dissolution: The Attempt to Make History Possible, 376 Boredom, the Other Condition, and the Return of History, 386
- Conclusion: Boredom and the Rhetoric of Reflection on Modernity 397
 The Critique of Experience, 397 The Genealogy of Boredom: Discourse, Temporality, History, 402 Boredom and the Modern Rhetoric of Reflection on Subjective Experience, 407 Boredom and the Democratization of Skepticism in Modernity, 412
- Bibliography* 423
- Index* 449