CONTENTS

List of Illustrations.............................................................. vii

Introduction
  Alka Patel and Karen Leonard ................................. 1

Representation of Social Groups in Mughal Art and Literature: Ethnography or Trope?
  Sunil Sharma.............................................................. 17

“Maid Killing a Snake” and “Dervish Receiving a Visitor”: A Re-Examination of Bijapuri Masterpieces through the Lens of the Lucknow Copy
  Keelan Overton.......................................................... 37

Literary Moments of Exchange in the 18th Century: The New Urdu Vogue Meets Krishna Bhakti
  Heidi Pauwels................................................................. 61

Darbārs in Transition: The Many Facets of the Mughal Imperial Image after Shah Jahan As Seen in the ex-Binney Collection in the San Diego Museum of Art
  Laura E. Parodi........................................................... 87

From Miniatures to Monuments Picturing Shah Alam’s Delhi (1771-1806)
  Yuthika Sharma.......................................................... 111

Mercantile Architectural Patronage in Hyderabad, Late 18th-19th Centuries
  Alka Patel................................................................. 139

Indo-Muslim Culture in Hyderabad: Old City Neighborhoods in the 19th Century
  Karen Leonard............................................................ 165
Interrogating “The East,” “Culture,” and “Loss,” in Abdul Halim Sharar’s Guzashta Lakhna’u

C. M. Nairn .......................................................... 189

Zaheer v Ali: Dissenting Views on the Early Years of the Progressive Movement in Urdu Literature

Carlo Coppola ................................................... 205

Index ................................................................. 219
Color Plates ....................................................... 221
Black and White Plates ................................. 252