

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments.....	X
Abbreviations.....	XII
1. INTRODUCTION	1
1.1 Priesthood in antiquity: similarities and differences.....	1
1.2 Hittite religion.....	1
1.3 Priesthood in the Ancient Near East.....	4
1.4 Hittite priests.....	5
2. GROUPS AND CLASSES OF PRIESTS	8
2.1 Introduction.....	8
2.2 Prayer of Arnuwanda and Ašmunikal - A Middle Hittite text regarding the priesthood and the cult of the kingdom (CTH 375).....	8
2.3 Instructions for Commanders of Border Garrisons (CTH 261).....	11
2.4 The activity of the priesthood and its status in society.....	15
2.4.1 The ritual of Tunnawiya (CTH 760)	15
2.4.2 Purification ritual or instructions to cult personnel (CTH 456)	18
2.5 Cult inventory texts	20
2.5.1 The Karahna cult center (CTH 517)	21
2.5.2 Cultic inventory of different towns (KUB 38.1 = CTH 501)	24
2.6 A text mentioning the temple of the Sun-goddess of the Earth in the town of Zippalanda (CTH 670)	26
2.7 Priesthood as a characteristic of the Hittite royal family.....	27
2.8 Survey of titles.....	29
2.8.1 SANGA-priest and SANGA-priestess	29
2.8.2 AMA.DINGIR-priestess.....	30
2.8.3 GUDU-priest.....	31
3. INSTRUCTIONS FOR TEMPLE PERSONNEL - CTH 264.....	33
3.1 Introduction.....	33
3.2 The Colophon: An išhiul -text	34

3.3	Description of the text's main tablet	37
3.4	The copies of CTH 264	38
3.5	Transliteration of CTH 264	40
3.6	Translation of CTH 264	70
3.7	Variations between the copies	86
3.8	Commentary to CTH 264	94
3.9	Ideal priesthood of Ḫattuša: Issues of priestly tasks	107
3.9.1	Instructions for temple personnel at Ḫattuša	107
3.9.2	Contents of the text and its division into three main sections	108
3.9.3	Temple personnel and priesthood according to the text	109
3.9.3.1	Personnel inside and outside the temple	110
3.9.3.2	The work for which each group is responsible	112
3.9.4	Priestly prerogatives, duties, and responsibilities	113
3.9.4.1	The responsibility of the priesthood to care for the food and beverages of the gods	113
3.9.4.2	The treatment of the sacrifices, and the permission to eat from them	116
3.9.4.3	The festivals mentioned in the text in relation to the festivals known from other Hittite texts	117
3.9.4.4	Cleansing and being in a pure state while at the deity's service	123
3.9.4.5	Fear and reverence towards the gods	124
3.9.4.6	The priesthood's responsibility to guard the temple's grounds	126
3.9.4.7	The permission to enter a temple's precinct	127
3.9.4.8	The priesthood's relation to the wealth and possessions of the temple	128
3.9.4.9	The legal aspects of the text: Implications for the social status of the Hittite priesthood	129
3.9.5	The editing of the text ITP in relation to its date	135
4.	MALE PRIESTHOOD	140
4.1	The SANGA-priest	140
4.1.1	Introduction	140
4.1.2	Titles of SANGA-priests	142
4.1.2.1	GAL ^{LÜ} SANGA / ^{LÜ} SANGA GAL	142
4.1.2.2	^{LÜ} SANGA TUR / ^{LÜ} SANGA AR-KU-TIM	145

4.1.2.3	LÚ ^{MES} SANGA KUR.KUR	146
4.1.2.4	šuppiš LÚSANGA / LÚSANGA KÙ.GA	148
4.1.2.5	LÚSANGA kurutayanza	153
4.1.2.6	LÚSANGA GIBIL / LÚSANGA LIBIR.RA / LÚSANGA ŠU.GI	154
4.1.3	The deities with whom the SANGA-priests are affiliated (with tabulations)	157
4.1.4	Names of SANGA-priests	167
4.1.5	Towns with which the SANGA-priests are affiliated	170
4.1.6	The activities of the SANGA-priest in the cult	173
4.1.6.1	Authors of ritual texts	173
4.1.6.2	Daily routine and sleeping in the temple, cleaning the temple, and caring for the festivals	178
4.1.6.3	The SANGA-priest's care for his own purity	183
4.1.6.4	Caring for the deity: washing, anointing, carrying the deity's statue, and holding the deity's implements	187
4.1.6.5	The SANGA-priest in rituals: conducting the ritual, consecration, libation, performing an offering, breaking bread, serving food and being served	192
4.1.6.6	The SANGA-priests described as traveling between places and appearing in processions	199
4.1.6.7	Speaking, reciting, singing	200
4.1.6.8	Kissing and shaking hands	201
4.1.6.9	Dream incubation and oracular inquiries	201
4.1.6.10	The SANGA-priest as an administrator	202
4.1.7	The SANGA-priests' status	203
4.1.7.1	The SANGA-priest as a state functionary	203
4.1.7.2	The house of the SANGA-priest: A cult institution	209
4.1.7.3	Receiving clothing and animals for the festival	211
4.1.7.4	The SANGA-priest's rank among other priests	212
4.1.7.5	The household of the SANGA-priest	215
4.1.8	Installation of a SANGA-priest	217
4.1.9	The Priesthood and the central cultic administration	226
4.2	The GUDU-priest	229
4.2.1	Introduction	229
4.2.2	GUDU-priests' affiliation with towns and deities	231

4.2.3	Named GUDU-priests.....	236
4.2.4	The GUDU-priest as a cult functionary.....	238
4.2.4.1	Consecration roles of the GUDU-priest.....	238
4.2.4.2	The libation implements used by the GUDU-priest.....	242
4.2.4.3	The GUDU-priest as purifier/sanctifier?	245
4.2.4.4	The GUDU-priest as a reciter.....	247
4.2.4.5	Other activities of the GUDU-priest during the rituals	257
4.2.4.5.1	The GUDU-priest and livers	257
4.2.4.5.2	The GUDU-priest and the bread.....	258
4.2.4.5.3	The GUDU-priest and the AN.TAḪ.ŠUM-plant... 260
4.2.4.5.4	The GUDU-priest carrying the scepters or a statue of the deity	260
4.2.5	The status of the GUDU-priest	263
4.2.6	Concluding remarks.....	274
4.3	The Temple-Men.....	279
4.3.1	Introduction.....	279
4.3.2	The occurrence of the title of Temple-Men in oracle texts	280
4.3.3	The occurrence of the title of Temple-Men in a fragment of a vow (CTH 590)	296
4.3.4	The occurrence of the title of Temple-Men in festival texts	296
4.3.5	An išhiūl : A text of Muṣṣili II reporting on the cult of Šamuḫa	307
4.3.6	Roles and duties of the Temple-Men: A summary	308
4.3.7	The office of the Temple-Man: a title of the New Kingdom.....	309
5.	FEMALE PRIESTHOOD.....	312
5.1	The SANGA-priestess
5.1.1	Introduction.....	312
5.1.2	The appearance of the SANGA-priestess in relation to gods... 313
5.1.3	The context of the SANGA-priestess' activity.....	313
5.1.4	Concluding remarks on the roles and status of the SANGA priestess	331
5.2	The AMA.DINGIR-priestess	335
5.2.1	Introduction.....	335
5.2.2	The AMA.DINGIR-priestess: Functions in festival texts	336

5.2.3 The AMA.DINGIR-priestess: Descriptions in cult inventories	355
5.2.4 Concluding remarks.....	363
5.2.5 Historical perspective: The relationship between the AMA.DINGIR-priestess and the SANGA-priestess	367
6. ROYALTY IN THE PRIESTHOOD.....	369
6.1 King, queen, and prince as priests	369
6.1.1 The use of priestly titles for royalty	369
6.1.2 Royal ^{LU} SANGA	370
6.1.3 The prince as a SANGA-priest before and after ascending the throne	373
6.1.4 King and prince in divine service	377
6.1.5 Queens as AMA.DINGIR-priestesses	380
6.2 The NIN.DINGIR - Priestess and princess.....	384
6.2.1 Textual sources and their dating	384
6.2.2 The NIN.DINGIR: A Sumerogram in Hittite	386
6.2.3 The status of the Hittite NIN.DINGIR according to the texts.....	390
6.2.3.1 The cultic status of the NIN.DINGIR	390
6.2.3.2 Symbols of status	394
6.2.3.3 The socioeconomic status of the NIN.DINGIR	395
6.2.4 The cultic performance of the NIN.DINGIR.....	397
6.2.4.1 The relation between the NIN.DINGIR and other cult functionaries	398
6.2.4.2 The cult personnel accompanying the NIN.DINGIR	399
6.2.5 The religious environment of the NIN.DINGIR	404
6.2.6 The deities mentioned in the rituals the NIN.DINGIR performs	409
6.2.7 The relationship of the NIN.DINGIR with the goddess Teteššapi	411
6.2.8 The Hittite NIN.DINGIR: A royal priestess	411
6.2.9 The NIN.DINGIR and the ^{LU} tuhukanti in texts of festivals.....	413
6.2.10 The latest attestation of the office of the Hittite NIN.DINGIR	416
6.2.11 List of texts recording the NIN.DINGIR.....	418
6.3 Royalty and the divine vestments.....	423
6.3.1 King and prince in divine vestments.....	423

6.3.2 The use of the deity's vestments by the Hittite NIN.DINGIR....	428
6.3.3 Conclusion	432
7. SUMMARY: The Main Characteristics of the Hittite Priesthood	435
7.1 Main issues addressed.....	435
7.2 The priesthood as part of the kingdom's administration.....	435
7.3 ITP in light of the surveyed texts.....	437
7.4 Titles of the priests	438
7.5 The office of the Hittite priestesses, and that of the NIN.DINGIR ..	440
7.6 Historical implications on the usage of the titles in the Hittite Kingdom.....	441
7.7 The social life of Hittite priests.....	441
7.8 Royalty as priesthood	444
7.9 The relations of the priesthood and the divine	446
Bibliography	447
Glossary for CTH 264.....	466
Indices	498
INDEX OF CITED TEXTS.....	498
NAMES OF DEITIES	505
PERSONAL NAMES	507
GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES	508
GENERAL INDEX	510