Contents

Plan of the Series ................................................................. xix
Introduction ............................................................................ xxii
Acknowledgments ................................................................. xxiv
Permissions ............................................................................. xxv

A Brief Life of Mark Twain ...................................................... 3

Adventures of Huckleberry Finn Chronology ................................ 7

Backgrounds and Sources ......................................................... 9

Places and People ..................................................................... 10

  Hannibal, Missouri: “His Predestined Great Good Place”—Dixon Wecter
  Huck and Pap—Dixon Wecter
  Sidebar: The First Appearance of Huck Finn—The Adventures of Tom Sawyer
  Sidebar: “Fish-Belly White”—Adventures of Huckleberry Finn
  Jim as a Composite Portrait—Arthur G. Pettit
  Sidebar: The Fugitive Slave Act of 1850
  Sidebar: “A Slaveholding Community”—Mark Twain
  The Dialects in Huckleberry Finn—David Carkeet
  Facsimile: Page from Mark Twain’s working notes in which he records dialect words
  Facsimile: Page from Twain’s working notes, “He must hear some Arkansas women . . . ”

Sources for Incidents and Episodes ........................................... 41

  “Narrative Threads”: Newspaper Items as Sources for Huckleberry Finn—Edgar M. Branch
  The Grangerford-Shepherdson Feud—Edgar M. Branch and Robert H. Hirst
  Facsimile: Notebook page in which Twain listed river towns
  The Captain Attends a Camp-Meeting—Johnson Jones Hooper
  The Boggs Shooting—Walter Blair
  Sidebar: Colonel Sherburn and Mark Twain—from Adventures of Huckleberry Finn and a suppressed passage from Life on the Mississippi
  The Bawdy Humor of The King’s Camelopard or The Royal Nonesuch—James Ellis
  Facsimile: Holograph pages describing the bill for the king and duke’s Bricksville performance
Literary Influences .................................................................................................................. 80

Shakespeare Burlesques in Huckleberry Finn: “Ambiguous Responses to High Culture and Great Literature”—Anthony J. Berret

Facsimile: Holograph version of “Hamlet’s Immortal Soliloquy”

Manipulating a Genre: Huckleberry Finn as Boy Book—Alan Gribben

Thomas Carlyle, Charles Dickens, and Huckleberry Finn—Walter Blair

Sidebar: “I Cannot Quite Say I Have Read Nothing”—Mark Twain to Mary Mason Fairbanks, 6 August 1877

Huck Finn and the Slave Narratives: Lighting Out as Design—Lucinda H. MacKethan

“The Triumph of Huck’s ‘Sound Heart’”—Howard Baetzhold

Sidebar: Huck on Hermits—from The Adventures of Tom Sawyer

Composition and Illustration .................................................................................................. 111

Sidebar: “The Loveliest Study”

Writing Huckleberry Finn ..................................................................................................... 112

Nobility out of Tatters: The Writing of Huckleberry Finn—Tom Quirk

Sidebar: “Huck Finn’s Autobiography”—Mark Twain to William Dean Howells, 5 July 1875 and 9 August 1876

Facsimile: Mark Twain’s holograph title page

Facsimile: Holograph draft of Twain’s warning to the reader

Facsimile: First pages of Twain’s manuscript for Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

Facsimile: Last page of Twain’s work on the manuscript from summer 1876

Sidebar: “When the Tank Runs Dry”—Mark Twain

Facsimile: Page from Twain’s working notes, circa 1880, about plot possibilities

Facsimile: Page from Twain’s working notes indicating his decision not to have the raft destroyed by the steamship

Facsimile: First and last pages of manuscript portion Twain wrote in summer 1880

Facsimile: First page of the manuscript that Twain returned to in summer 1883

Sidebar: Out of the Pigeonhole Once More—Mark Twain to Howells, 20 July 1883; to Orion Clemens, 21 July 1883; and to Howells, 22 August 1883

Facsimile: Last pages of the manuscript of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

Adventures of Huckleberry Finn: The Growth from Manuscript to Novel—Victor Doyno

Facsimile: Manuscript page 500, showing one of Twain’s many stylic revisions

Sidebar: “My Copying Is Always Done on The Type-Writer”

Excised Episodes ..................................................................................................................... 150

Mark Twain to Charles L. Webster, 22 April 1884

Mark Twain to Webster, 1 September 1884

“One Part Pertickularly”—Olivia Susan Clemens

Facsimile: Manuscript pages beginning an excised episode of Jim’s “Ghost Story”

Facsimile: The last manuscript pages of Jim’s story
Illustrating the Novel
Mark Twain, E. W. Kemble, and Huckleberry Finn—Michael Patrick Hearn

Sidebar: Working on Proof—Mark Twain to Webster, 7, 11, and 14 August 1884

“A Nobler Roman Aspect” of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Louis J. Budd

Sidebar: Mark Twain’s Frontispiece—Mark Twain to Webster, 8 September 1884

The Further Adventures of Huckle Finn ........................................................................... 180

Huck Finn after Huck Finn—Claude M. Simpson Jr.

Sidebar: Huck Out West—Mark Twain to Webster, 6 July 1884

Marketing and Reception

Selling Huck Finn by Subscription ................................................................................. 189

Mark Twain to Charles L. Webster, 29 February 1884
Mark Twain to Webster, 12 April 1884
Mark Twain to Webster, 14 April 1884
Mark Twain to Webster, 23 May 1884
Mark Twain to Webster, 1 July 1884

Sidebar: Readings for the Platform—Mark Twain to Webster, 20 September 1884

Huckleberry Finn on a Lecture Tour ............................................................................. 192

The Genial Mark: Review of Mark Twain’s Reading—Toronto Globe, 9 December 1884

Facsimile: Proof sheet from Adventures of Huckleberry Finn revised by Mark Twain for oral presentation

Sidebar: “I Never Enjoyed You More”—William Dean Howells to Mark Twain, 14 November 1884

“Twain” and Cable—The Pittsburg Dispatch, 30 December 1884
Mark Twain and George W. Cable—St. Louis Daily Globe Democrat, 10 January 1885

Twain-Cable—The Daily Gate City, 15 January 1885

Sidebar: Angelic and Diabolic Spirits—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, 9 January 1885

The Twain-Cable Combination—Indianapolis Journal, 8 February 1885

Prepublication in The Century ......................................................................................... 200

The Century Magazine Edits Huckleberry Finn, 1884–1885—Arthur L. Scott

Sidebar: “Dramatic and Powerful”—E. C. Stedman to Mark Twain, 7 January 1885

The Contemporary Reception ................................................................................................. 209

“Thoroughly Publicized”—Victor Fischer

“Two Rough Categories”: The Reviewers and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Victor Fischer

Sidebar: Mark Twain’s Lawsuit against Estes & Lauriat—Mark Twain to Webster, 15 December 1884, and The Literary World, 21 February 1885

“Mark Twain at His Best”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Athenaeum, 27 December 1884

“Intensely Humorous”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Detroit Free Press, 10 January 1885
Sidebar: “A Positive Order”: Sending Out Review Copies—Mark Twain to Webster, 23 and 27 January, 8 and 10 February 1885

Sidebar: “Incredibly Well Done”—Robert Louis Stevenson to J. A. Symonds, February 1885

Mark Twain’s New Story: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—New York Sun, 15 February 1885

“Exceedingly Droll”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Hartford Evening Post, 17 February 1885

Sidebar: The Undertaker and the Dog—Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

“As Serious as it is Amusing”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—The Hartford Courant, 20 February 1885

Sidebar: Taking Issue with Mark Twain’s Diction—The Boston Globe, 20 February 1885

“Thoroughly Interesting and Mirth-Provoking”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Montreal Star, 21 February 1885

Facsimile: James Whitcomb Riley letter to Samuel Clemens, 25 February 1885

Sidebar: “A Little Gratitude”—William L. Alden to Clemens, 28 February and 15 March 1885

“Serious Thought . . . Merry Laughter”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Congregationalist, March 1885

Mark Twain’s Bad Boy: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—New York World, 2 March 1885

“Flat, Stale and Unprofitable”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Boston Evening Traveller, 5 March 1885

“Good and Lively”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Hartford Times, 9 March 1885

Sidebar: “In Stepped Mark Twain and Spoiled It All”—Detroit Post, 8 March 1885, and Springfield Republican, 9 March 1885

“A Pot-Boiler in its Baldest Form”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—San Francisco Daily Examiner, 9 March 1885

Sidebar: “Take a Tumble”—U.S. to Clemens, 10 March 1885

“Wearisome and Labored”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Boston Advertiser, 12 March 1885

Sidebar: “A Handsome Success”—Mark Twain to Webster, 16 March 1885

“Writing for the Market”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—San Francisco Bulletin, 14 March 1885

Mark Twain’s Readable New Story: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—San Francisco Chronicle, 15 March 1885

Facsimile: Oliver Wendell Holmes to Clemens, 16 March 1885

Tom Sawyer’s Chum: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—San Francisco Morning Call, 17 March 1885

“Bad Taste”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—San Francisco Alta California, 24 March 1885

Ruling Out Humor: A Response to the Concord Public Library Ban—San Francisco Chronicle, 29 March 1885

Facsimile: First page of Clemens letter to the secretary of the Concord Free Trade Club, 28 March 1885

Sidebar: Becoming the Pet of Massachusetts: Mark Twain and the Concord Library Ban—reports in The New York Times, 17 March 1885; St. Louis Globe-Democrat, 17 March 1885; The Boston Daily Advertiser, 25 March 1885; and Mark Twain to Frank A. Nichols, 28 March 1885

Sidebar: “The Reality of the Southern Vendetta”—J. C. Fuller to Mark Twain, 10 August 1885

“Lively and Fresh”: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—British Quarterly Review, 1 April 1885
Sidebar: The Real Huck Finn—Clemens to Webster, 4 April 1885
Sidebar: “A Faithful Record”—John Hay to Clemens, 14 April 1885
Sidebar: “Back in Memory”—Thomas S. Nash to Clemens, 23 April 1885
Mark Twain and Lord Lytton: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Franklin B. Sanborn, Springfield Republican, 27 April 1885
Sidebar: A Late Notice in the Atlantic Monthly—April 1885
Huckleberry Finn and His Critics: Review of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Joel Chandler Harris. Atlanta Constitution, 26 May 1885
Facsimile: Joel Chandler Harris to Clemens, 1 June 1885

Recognizing a Masterpiece .................................................. 243

After the Reviewers—Victor Fischer
Sidebar: “Full of Fun”—Orion Clemens to Mark Twain, 8 June 1885
Sidebar: A “Wholesome Book”—Joel Chandler Harris on Mark Twain’s Fiftieth Birthday—letter to the editors of The Critic, 28 November 1885

Reputation ................................................................................. 246

Huckleberry Finn in the Canon .............................................. 246

The Recomposition of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn—Louis J. Budd
Sidebar: “Questionable Companionship”: Mark Twain Responds to Being Banned in Brooklyn—S. L. Clemens to Asa Don Dickinson, 21 November 1905

Literary Legacy .......................................................................... 258

Huckleberry Finn’s Heirs—Tom Quirk
A Sampling of Writers on Huckleberry Finn
William Dean Howells, The North American Review, February 1901
George Bernard Shaw to Samuel L. Clemens, 3 July 1907
E. C. Bentley, Trent’s Last Case (1913)
H. L. Mencken, The Smart Set, February 1913
Sherwood Anderson to Van Wyck Brooks, 1918
Waldo Frank, Our America (1919)
James Branch Cabell, Jurgen (1919)
Van Wyck Brooks, The Ordeal of Mark Twain (1924)
Willa Cather, preface to The Best Stories of Sarah Orne Jewett (1925)
Facsimile: Statement by F. Scott Fitzgerald on the occasion of the centennial of Mark Twain’s birth
Gertrude Stein, note given to the Mark Twain Society in St. Louis. 1934
Ernest Hemingway, The Green Hills of Africa (1935)
Sterling Brown, The Negro in American Fiction (1935)
Richard Wright, “Memories of My Grandmother”
Grant Wood, Mark Twain Quarterly, Fall 1937
Edgar Lee Masters. Mark Twain: A Portrait (1938)
W. Somerset Maugham, The Saturday Evening Post, 6 January 1940
Sinclair Lewis, circa 1941
Bernard DeVoto, introduction, The Portable Mark Twain (1946)
Ralph Ellison. Confluence, December 1953
Facsimile: Willa Cather's undated letter on the vitality of Adventures of Huckleberry Finn
Herman Wouk, San Francisco Chronicle, August 1956
Wright Morris, The Territory Ahead (1957)
Allen Tate, The Virginia Quarterly Review, Summer 1968
John Barth, interview, Contemporary Literature, Winter 1981
Irvin Faust, DLB Yearbook, 1985
Nat Hentoff, DLB Yearbook, 1985
Ernest Gaines, interview, March 1993

African American Critics on Huckleberry Finn .................................................. 285

The Case Against Huck Finn—John H. Wallace
Sidebar: “The Pith of the American Literature Curriculum”—Peaches Henry
Sidebar: One of America’s Best Pieces of Ironic Fiction—Richard Barksdale
Sidebar: “Sells Jim’s Soul Down the River for Laughs”—Bernard Bell
Huck, Jim and American Racial Discourse—David L. Smith
Sidebar: “Twain Challenges America to Be Better”—Betty H. Jones
Sidebar: “Deserves a Careful Reading”—Rhett S. Jones
Sidebar: “Well-Meant, Noble Sounding Error”—Julius Lester
Sidebar: “Our Enduring Sense of What America Means”—Charles H. Nichols
Sidebar: “The True Visionary Center”—Jocelyn Chadwick-Joshua

Works by Mark Twain ............................................................................................. 307

Works about Mark Twain and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn ................................. 313

Cumulative Index ..................................................................................................... 325