

CONTENTS

Preface	vi
---------	----

Health and Sickness in Ancient Rome

Vivian Nutton (The Wellcome Centre for the History of Medicine, University College London)
Galen in Context.	1
Rebecca Flemming (Jesus College, Cambridge)
Pliny and the Pathologies of Empire.	19
A.J. Woodman (University of Virginia)
Community Health: Metaphors in Latin Historiography	43
Gareth Williams (Columbia University)
Apollo, Aesculapius and the Poetics of Illness in Ovid's Metamorphoses	63
Svetla Slaveva-Griffin (The Florida State University)
Medicine in the Life and Works of Plotinus	93

Greek and Roman Poetry and Historiography

F. Williams (Trinity College Dublin)
Monkey Business in Semonides (fr.7.75)	119
Damien Nelis (Université de Genève)
Vergil, Georgics 1.489–92: More Blood?	133
J.G.F. Powell (Royal Holloway, University of London)
Horace, Scythia, and the East	137
Alex Hardie (University of Edinburgh)
An Augustan Hymn to the Muses (Horace Odes 3.4). Part II	191
Robert Maltby (University of Leeds)
The Unity of Corpus Tibullianum Book 3: Some Stylistic and Metrical Considerations	319
Robin Seager (University of Liverpool)
Domitianic Themes in Statius' Silvae	341
Cynthia Damon (University of Pennsylvania)
Déjà vu or déjà lu? History as Intertext	375
Index locorum	389