

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Series Editors' Preface	viii
Note on the text	viii

PART ONE: CONTEXTS

Chapter One: 'Who Are We?': Social and Cultural Contexts of the Contemporary American Novel	3
Chapter Two: 'Why Bother?': Literary and Intellectual Contexts of the Contemporary American Novel	14
Review, Reading and Research	25

PART TWO: TEXTS

Chapter Three: Overpowering Consumerism: American Psycho (1991) and Fight Club (1996)	31
Chapter Four: Between Black and White: Beloved (1987) and The Human Stain (2000)	57
Chapter Five: The Contemporary Americas Novel: Blood Meridian (1985), Almanac of the Dead (1991), The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao (2007)	83
Chapter Six: 'It's the End of the World as We Know It (and I Feel Fine)': Globalization and its Discontents in Jasmine (1989) and Cosmopolis (2003)	108
Review, Reading and Research	134

PART THREE: WIDER CONTEXTS

Chapter Seven: Afterlives and Adaptations: The Contemporary American Novel on Film, Video and the Internet	143
--	-----

THE CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN NOVEL IN CONTEXT

Chapter Eight: Critical Contexts: Approaches to the Contemporary American Novel	153
Review, Reading and Research	168
Additional Works Cited	172
Index	176