

Contents

Contributors vii

Introduction by the Editors 1

- |   |   |     |
|---|---|-----|
| 1 | Locality in American Culture and the American Experience                    | 12  |
|   | William J. Gavin   |     |
| 2 | The Pragmatic Scholar and the History of American Philosophy                | 30  |
|   | James Campbell   |     |
| 3 | Living Creatively, While Terminal   | 58  |
|   | Jacquelyn Ann K. Kegley  |     |
| 4 | The “Bite” of the Existential “Moment”                                      | 84  |
|   | Michael W. Allen   |     |
| 5 | McDermott’s Processive-Relational Personalism: Optimism? No! Hope? Perhaps! | 116 |
|   | Eugene Fontinell   |     |
| 6 | Landscape and Personscape in Urban Aesthetics                               | 140 |
|   | Richard E. Hart  |     |
| 7 | What Does It Mean to Have an Ethics?  | 162 |
|   | Paul B. Thompson   |     |
| 8 | No Eros, No Buds: Teaching as Nectaring                                     | 178 |
|   | Arthur Lothstein   |     |

9	The Necessity of a Cultural Pedagogy	211
	John Ryder
	Afterword: You Are Really Able	237
	Notes	273
	Complete Bibliography of the Writings of John J. McDermott	293
	Index	317