

Contents

List of illustrations	xviii
Preface	xix
Acknowledgements	xxii
List of abbreviations and units	xxiii
Overture: The fall	I
PART I	5
1 Narrative on the history of macroeconomics	7
Classical macroeconomics	7
The marginalist revolution: neoclassical economics	11
The Keynesian 'revolution'	12
Friedman and monetarism	16
'New classical' macroeconomics	20
2 Microeconomics and the economics of welfare	24
The economics of welfare	24
Utility and economic welfare	25
Theory of (rational) consumer choice	26
General equilibrium and the social optimum	32
Market failure: externalities and public goods	37
Cost-benefit analysis	40
PART II	45
3 Economics and ethics	47
Approaching ethical issues	47
Ethics and neoclassical economics	48
Egoism	50
Utilitarianism	53

4	Economics and the liberal context	61
	Liberals and liberalisms 61
	Economists and liberalisms in the twentieth century 68
	Libertarian economy as theory: Friedrich von Hayek 71
	Hayek: on reflection 76
5	Economics and ideology	78
	Economics, political economy, ideology 78
	The 'Chicago School' 80
	The Mont Pelerin Society and the think tank movement 83
	Libertarian economy as practice: processes and outcomes 88
	PART III	95
6	Economy in society	97
	Human action and economics from a sociological viewpoint 97
	Institutions and economics 101
	Social norms and economics 102
	Social dilemmas and the importance of institutions 105
7	International economy and globalization	111
	The idea of trade 111
	Economic globalization 113
	The World Bank, IMF, and the 'Washington Consensus' 115
	The WTO and international trade 121
	The WTO, trade, and environment 125
8	Economy in the physical world	131
	Nature's economy 131
	Humans in the global ecosystem 134
	A new beginning: ecological economics 141
	Initial steps towards ensuring economic sustainability 148
9	Economics and climate change	151
	The greenhouse effect 151
	International response and the IPCC 153
	The economics of climate change: the Stern Review 156
	The Stern Review and the bounds of economics 160
	Ethics and climate change 164

PART IV

169

10 Economics from a deontological perspective 171

Robert Nozick: justice as entitlement 171

John Rawls: justice as fairness 174

Critique of Rawls' A Theory of Justice 177

The capability approach 180

The claim of rights 181

Human rights and basic rights 183

11 Democracy, citizenship 188

Democracy, capitalism, liberalism 188

Some liberal theories of democracy 191

Finding the balance 195

Communicative rationality, deliberative democracy 197

Further afield 202

12 Economics: A prospective view 204

A systems approach 204

Deliberative processes 209

Human rights and environmental rights 212

The global environment, and trade 215

Measuring economic and social progress 219

Population, sustainability, development 219

Economics and economists 222

Consumers and citizens 224

Mathematical appendix 225

Notes 230

Bibliography 239

Index 269