

Contents

| | |
|---------|----|
| Preface | ix |
|---------|----|

Part One

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 1 | I Was Not in the Mood | 3 |
| 2 | Goodbye, Mother | 13 |
| 3 | Return to Jaffa | 18 |
| 4 | The Seven-Year Epic of My Identity (1981–88) | 26 |
| 5 | The Bold and the Not So Beautiful | 45 |
| 6 | A Shopping Spree in Anticipation of Saddam's Scud Missiles | 58 |
| 7 | The Promised Gas Masks | 76 |
| 8 | Palestina vulgaris | 87 |
| 9 | A Dog's Life | 99 |
| 10 | Diala's First Encounter | 109 |

Part Two

| | | |
|----|------------------------|-----|
| 11 | Cappuccino in Ramallah | 119 |
| 12 | Our New Neighbours | 125 |

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 13 | Ramallah under Curfew (29 March–1 May 2002) | 130 |
| | I The Balcony | 130 |
| | II The Purple Dress | 135 |
| | III The Marmalade | 141 |
| | IV The Doors | 143 |
| | V Farewell, Jad | 147 |
| | VI Welcome Home, Salim | 151 |
| | VII Saleh, the Blacksmith | 157 |
| 14 | Nablus – The Unbearable Encounter | 163 |
| | I My Nabulsi Grandmother | 163 |
| | II The Destruction of Nablus's Historic Quarter | 164 |
| | III The Three Princesses | 167 |
| 15 | Mr President | 174 |
| 16 | Sharon and My Teflon Pan | 177 |
| 17 | A Ten-Day Relaxation Trip to Egypt | 183 |
| 18 | A Lioness's Perspective | 187 |