

The Menu

A Note of Thanks	v
The Guest List	vi
Introduction: A Welcome from the Host Kate McLoughlin	1
1 'The dinner was indeed quiet': Domestic Parties in the Work of Joseph Conrad Susan Jones	25
2 Prufrock, Party-Goer: Tongue-Tied at Tea Kate McLoughlin	45
3 Party Joyce: From the 'Dead' to When We 'Wake' Jean-Michel Rabaté	64
4 'Looking at the party with you': Pivotal Moments in Katherine Mansfield's Party Stories Angela Smith	79
5 Virginia Woolf's Idea of a Party Bryony Randall	95
6 Proustian Peristalsis: Parties Before, During and After David R. Ellison	112
7 'Ezra through the open door': The Parties of Natalie Barney, Adrienne Monnier and Sylvia Beach as Lesbian Modernist Cultural Production Joanne Winning	127
8 'Indeed everybody did come': Parties, Publicity and Intimacy in Gertrude Stein's Plays Alex Goody	147

9	The Interracial Party of Modernist Primitivism and the Black ‘After-Party’	164
	Margo Natalie Crawford
10	The Party In Extremis in D. H. Lawrence’s Women in Love	178
	Margot Norris
11	Bohemian Retrospects: Ford Madox Ford, Post-War Memory and the Cabaret Theatre Club	192
	Nathan Waddell
12	‘Pleasure too often repeated’: Aldous Huxley’s Modernity	210
	Morag Shiach
	Index	228