

Contents

Citation Information	vii
1. Introduction: Writing of Mothers Maura Sheehy	1
Part I: Mothers in the Consulting Room
2. Giving Body to Thought: Entwinements Between Women Velleda C. Ceccoli	12
3. Mothers, Monsters, Mentors Adrienne Harris	24
4. Lost in a Fog, or "How Difficult Is This MOMMY Stuff, Anyway?" Maura Sheehy	39
Part II: Maternal Subjectivity
5. Oi Mother, Keep Ye' Hair On! Impossible Transformations of Maternal Subjectivity Lisa Baraitser	44
6. What Exactly Is the Transformation of Motherhood? Commentary on Lisa Baraitser's Paper Daphne de Marneffe	66
7. Reply to Commentaries Lisa Baraitser	76
8. Mum's the Word: Intersubjectivity, Alterity, and the Maternal Subject Lisa Baraitser	85
9. Maternal Silence Miri Rozmarin	110
Part III: Maternality and Writing, Creativity
10. I'm in the Milk and the Milk Is in Me: Writing from the Night Kitchen Donna Bassin	122

CONTENTS

11. Mother-Writing and the Narrative of Maternal Subjectivity Suzanne Juhasz	134
Part IV: Maternal Representation in Culture
12. "It Ain't Fittin'": Cinematic and Fantasmatic Contours of Mammy in Gone with the Wind and Beyond Maria St. John	166
13. What About the Baby? The New Cult of Domesticity and Media Images of Pregnancy Katie Gentile	200
14. What About the Episiotomy? A Response to Katie Gentile's Article, "What About the Baby?" Lynne Zeavin	221
15. Social Trauma and Models of Ideological Analysis: Commentary on Article by Katie Gentile Lynne Layton	227
16. Reply to Commentaries: "What About the Baby? The New Cult of Domesticity and Media Images of Pregnancy" Katie Gentile	234
Index	240