

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	I
Research Hypotheses	4
Structure of the Book	5
1 Research Context	8
1.1 Dialectal Fragmentation in Gallo-Romance	8
1.2 External History of French in Béarn	11
1.3 The Béarnais Speech Community	14
1.4 'Language' and 'Dialect' in Béarn	16
1.5 Language and Dialect Death	20
2 Phonological Systems	25
2.1 Béarnais Phonology	25
2.2 Standard and Supralocal French Phonology	30
2.3 Southern Regional French Phonology	35
3 Theoretical and Methodological Considerations	43
3.1 The Language Contact Study	43
3.2 The Dialect Contact Study	46
3.3 Data Collection	50
3.4 Data Analysis	57
4 Language Contact: Evidence for Linguistic Transfer	64
4.1 Transfer in the Mid-vowels	64
4.2 Transfer in the Nasal Vowels	72
4.3 Evidence for Substrate Influence in Regional French	88
5 Dialect Contact: Evidence for Supralocalisation	91
5.1 Change in the Mid-vowels	92
5.2 Change in the Nasal Vowels	98
5.3 The Outcomes of Dialect Contact for Regional French	107
6 Rethinking Regional French	111
6.1 Northern and Southern Regional French	111
6.2 Regional Identity in 21st-Century France	117
Conclusion	123
Bibliography	126
Appendices	133
Appendix 1. Participants in the Language and Dialect Contact Studies	133
Appendix 2. Data: Language Contact Study	134
Appendix 3. Data: Dialect Contact Study	146
Index	156