

Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| Acknowledgements | viii |
| 1 Introduction: the metamorphosis of constitutionalism | 1 |
| 1.1 Changing frames | 1 |
| 1.2 The two discourses of transnational ordering | 3 |
| 1.3 The new constitutional agenda | 5 |
| 1.4 An alternative approach | 7 |
| PART I | |
| Structural transformations | 15 |
| 2 The implosion of the Eurocentric world | 17 |
| 2.1 Introduction | 17 |
| 2.2 The long twentieth century | 17 |
| 2.3 The transformation of 'deeper structures' | 20 |
| 2.4 Limited statehood | 23 |
| 2.5 The co-evolution of statehood and transnational ordering | 31 |
| 2.6 Conclusion | 35 |
| 3 The multiplicity of normative orders in world society | 41 |
| 3.1 Introduction | 41 |
| 3.2 The concept of world society | 41 |
| 3.3 The re-configuration of cognitive and normative expectations | 43 |
| 3.4 Normative orders as basic units of study | 45 |
| 3.5 The entangled vertical and horizontal logics of world society | 50 |
| 3.6 Multiple lines of conflict | 53 |
| 3.7 Establishing compatibility | 55 |
| 3.8 Conclusion | 58 |

PART II

Re-configurations of law and the political 63

4 The law within and in between normative orders 65

- 4.1 Introduction 65
- 4.2 Hybrid law 65
- 4.3 Fragmented law 69
- 4.4 Heterarchical law 70
- 4.5 Intra- and inter-contextual law 72
- 4.6 The normative and cognitive dimensions of law 76
- 4.7 Conclusion 78

5 The political within and in between normative orders 83

- 5.1 Introduction 83
- 5.2 Primary and secondary forms of the political 84
- 5.3 'Nations' and stakeholders as forms 87
- 5.4 The public sphere and transparency 90
- 5.5 Representation and self-representation 91
- 5.6 The status of the political in the transnational space 93
- 5.7 The transnational form of the functional synthesis 94
- 5.8 Conclusion 97

PART III

Constitutional stabilisation 101

6 The breakdown of constitutional ordering through globalisation-induced crises 103

- 6.1 Introduction 103
- 6.2 From static to dynamic constitutions 104
- 6.3 The Janus-face of modernity 105
- 6.4 Forms of societal crises 107
- 6.5 The constitutional conglomerates of national configurations 109
- 6.6 Constitutional breakdowns 113
- 6.7 Conclusion 118

7 The transmutation of constitutional ordering 122

- 7.1 Introduction 122
- 7.2 The emergence and mutation of the European economic constitution 122
- 7.3 Constitutional ordering in the global realm 128
- 7.4 Counter-movements through new sectorial constitutions: the example of fair trade 129
- 7.5 Conclusion 132

| | | |
|----------|---|------------|
| 8 | Re-calibrating the constitutional concept | 136 |
| 8.1 | Introduction | 136 |
| 8.2 | The organisational society | 137 |
| 8.3 | Internal condensation through constitutions | 140 |
| 8.4 | External compatibility through constitutionalisation | 143 |
| 8.5 | Approaching the future through constitutionalism | 146 |
| 8.6 | Conclusion | 148 |
| | | |
| 9 | Conclusion | 152 |
| | | |
| | Bibliography | 157 |
| | Index | 172 |