

Contents

Introduction
Sonia Tascón and Tyson Wils		1
Section 1: Film Festivals as Platform		19
Chapter 1: Watching Others' Troubles: Revisiting "The Film Act" and Spectatorship in Activist Film Festivals		21
Sonia Tascón
Chapter 2: Off-Screen Activism and the Documentary Film Screening		39
Lyell Davies
Chapter 3: ITVS (Independent Television Service) Community Cinema: State-Sponsored Documentary Film Festivals, Community Engagement and Pedagogy		59
Tomás F. Crowder-Taraborrelli and Kristi Wilson
Section 2: Contextual and Institutional Forces		79
Chapter 4: The Revolution Will Not Be Festivalized: Documentary Film Festivals and Activism		81
Ezra Winton and Svetla Turnin
Chapter 5: Human Rights Film Festivals: Different Approaches to Change the World		105
Matthea de Jong and Daan Bronkhorst
Chapter 6: Refusal to Know the Place of Human Rights: Dissensus and the Human Rights Arts and Film Festival		121
Tyson Wils
Section 3: National and Regional Perspectives		139
Chapter 7: Bristol Palestine Film Festival: Engaging the Inactive, the Aroused and the Aware		141
David Owen

Chapter 8:	Reframing the Margin: Regional Film Festivals in India, a Case Study of the Cinema of Resistance	159
	Shweta Kishore
Chapter 9:	“Its Not Just About the Films”: Activist Film Festivals in Post-New Order Indonesia	181
	Alexandra Crosby
Section 4:	Identity Politics	197
Chapter 10:	imagineNATIVE Film + Media Arts Festival: Collaborative Criticism through Curatorship	199
	Davinia Thornley
Chapter 11:	Disability Film Festivals: Biological Identity(ies) and Heterotopia	213
	Ana Cristina Bohrer Glibert
Chapter 12:	“Would You Like Politics with That?” Queer Film Festival Audiences as Political Consumers	229
	Stuart Richards
Notes on Contributors		247