

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
Preface	viii
List of contributors	x
 Introduction	 1
KENNETH KALU, OLAJUMOKE YACOB-HALISO AND TOYIN FALOLA
 PART I
Citizens, citizenship and state-society relations	19
1 The postcolonial African state and its citizens	21
KENNETH KALU
2 Africa's "big men" and the African state	36
KENNETH KALU
3 Women, inclusive citizenship, and the African state	51
CHERYL O'BRIEN AND ADRYAN WALLACE
4 Women's political empowerment and the politics of citizenship in Nigeria and Tanzania	68
OLAJIDE O. AKANJI
5 Digital citizenship in Africa's fractured social order	81
EMMANUEL CHIJIJOKE OGBONNA
 PART II
Civil society, identities and big men	105
6 Civil society and the African state	107
ALEX MWAMBA NG'OMA
7 Youth and big men politics	122
NGOZI NWOGWUGWU

vi Contents

8	Culture and religion in Africa: Social transformation and tools for exploitation SUSAN MBULA KILONZO	142
9	Pastocracy: Performing Pentecostal politics in Africa ABIMBOLA ADUNNI ADELAKUN	161
10	Ethnic identity politics and the sustenance of Africa's predatory state GASHAWBEZA W. BEKELE AND ADEBAYO OYEBADE	177
PART III
	Democratic impact of predatory state-society relations	193
11	Accountability theory and democracy in Nigeria OLAJUMOKE YACOB-HALISO AND ADIGUN AGBAJE	195
12	State-society relations and nature of economic growth in Africa SAMUEL ZALANGA	213
13	The social impact of Africa's predatory state-society relations SAMUEL O. OLORUNTOBA	224
14	Africa's "big men" in the continent's democratic experiments ERNEST TOOCHI ANICHE	236
	Index	256