

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction: Ecce Monstra Michael E. Heyes	ix
PART I: INSIDE THE MONSTER, LOOKING OUT	1
1 The Woman's Body, In-Between: The Holy and Monstrous Womb in Medieval Medicine and Religion Minji Lee	3
2 Miracles and Monsters: Gog and Magog, Alexander the Great, and Antichrist in the Apocalypse of the Catalan Atlas (1375) Thomas S. Franke	23
3 Dressing Monstrous Men: Landsknechte Clothing in Some Early Modern Danish Church Wall Paintings John Block Friedman	47
4 Twelfth Night's "poor monster:" Viola/Cesario as Holy Grotesque Cathleen McKague	83
5 Grotesques in Sacred Spaces: The Cappella dei Priori and the Cappella del Quartiere di Leone X in the Palazzo Vecchio Susanne Margarit McColeman	109

PART II: MONSTROUS MODERNITY	133
6 Monstrous Sovereignty and the Corrupt Body Politic in Richard III and The Duchess of Malfi John W. Ellis-Etchison	135
7 Reform and Romance: Catholic Monstrosity in Antebellum U.S. Fiction AnaMaria Seglie	167
8 Lovecraft's Things: Sinister Souvenirs from Other Worlds Jeffrey Andrew Weinstock	189
9 The Big Bad and the Big "Aha!": Metamodern Monsters as Transformational Figures of Instability Linda C. Ceriello	207
10 From Revelation to Revolution: Explaining the Strange Success of Fox's Sleepy Hollow Michael E. Heyes	235
Index	257
About the Contributors	265