

Contents

Acknowledgments xi

Contributors xiii

About the Companion Website xvii

Introduction—Chasing the Dragon: In Search of Tone in Popular Music 1

ROBERT FINK, ZACHARY WALLMARK, AND MELINDA LATOUR

Part I GENRE

1. Hearing Timbre: Perceptual Learning among Early Bay Area Ravers 21

CORNELIA FALES

2. The Twang Factor in Country Music 43

JOCELYN R. NEAL

3. The Sound of Evil: Timbre, Body, and Sacred Violence in Death Metal 65

ZACHARY WALLMARK

4. Below 100 Hz: Toward a Musicology of Bass Culture 88

ROBERT FINK

Part II VOICE

5. Timbre and Legal Likeness: The Case of Tom Waits 119
MARK C. SAMPLES
6. "The Triumph of Jimmy Scott": A Voice beyond Category 141
NINA SUN EIDSHEIM
7. Auto-Tune, Labor, and the Pop-Music Voice 159
CATHERINE PROVENZANO

Part III INSTRUMENT

8. Hearing Luxe Pop: Jay-Z, Isaac Hayes, and the Six Degrees of Symphonic Soul 185
JOHN HOWLAND
9. Santana and the Metaphysics of Tone: Feedback Loops, Volume Knobs, and the Quest for Transcendence 212
MELINDA LATOUR
10. Synthesizers As Social Protest in Early-1970s Funk 233
GRIFFIN WOODWORTH
11. Crossing the Electronic Divide: Guitars, Synthesizers, and the Shifting Sound Field of Fusion 253
STEVE WAKSMAN

Part IV PRODUCTION

12. Clash of the Timbres: Recording Authenticity in the California Rock Scene, 1966–1968 279
JAN BUTLER
13. The Death Rattle of a Laughing Hyena: The Sound of Musical Democracy 300
ALBIN J. ZAK III

14. The Sound of Nowhere: Reverb and the Construction of Sonic Space 323

PAUL THÉBERGE

15. The Spectromorphology of Recorded Popular Music: The Shaping of Sonic Cartoons through Record Production 345

SIMON ZAGORSKI-THOMAS

Afterword 367

SIMON FRITH

Index 377