

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of contributors	viii
Preface: tribute to Patrick Harries (1950–2016)	x
1 Science between Africa and Europe: creating knowledge and connecting worlds (introduction)	1
MARTIN LENGWILER AND NIGEL PENN
PART I
Mapping and exploring	13
2 Peter Kolb and the circulation of knowledge about the Cape of Good Hope	15
NIGEL PENN AND ADRIEN DELMAS
3 A naturalist's career: Hinrich Lichtenstein (1780–1857)	47
SANDRA NÄF-GLOOR
4 ‘Nothing but love for natural history and my desire to help your Museum’? Ludwig Krebs’s transcontinental collecting partnership with Hinrich Lichtenstein	66
PATRICK GROGAN
5 The African travels of Hans Schinz: biological transfer and the academisation and popularisation of (African) Botany in Zurich	86
DAG HENRICHSEN

PART II

Knowledge practices between colonial and local actors 103

- 6 *Mission from Cape Coast Castle to Ashantee: one work's significance for European knowledge production about the Asante Empire 105

SONIA ABUN-NASR

- 7 *Tropical soldiers? New definitions of military strength in the colonial context (1884–1914) 125

HEINRICH HARTMANN

- 8 *Disease at the confluence of knowledge: kifafa and epilepsy in Ulanga (Tanzania) 150

MARCEL DREIER

- 9 *Standards and standardisations: the history of a malaria vaccine candidate (SPf66) in Tanzania 171

LUKAS MEIER

PART III

International discourses, transnational circulations of knowledge 185

- 10 *The politics and production of history on the birth of archaeology at the Cape (1827–2015) 187

TANJA HAMMEL

- 11 *Davos of Ghana? local, national and international perspectives on tuberculosis treatment and control (ca. 1920–1965) 208

PASCAL SCHMID

- 12 *When economics went overseas: epistemic problems in the macroeconomic analysis of late colonial Africa 237

DANIEL SPEICH CHASSÉ

- Index* 256