

Contents

Note on Place Names xv

Note on Transliteration xvi

PART I

POLAND AND HUNGARY: JEWISH REALITIES COMPARED

Introduction I

FRANÇOIS GUESNET, HOWARD LUPOVITCH, AND ANTONY POLONSKY

JEWISH ACCULTURATION AND INTEGRATION

The Magnate–Jewish Symbiosis: Hungarian and Polish Variations on a Theme 31

HOWARD LUPOVITCH

Ethnic Triangles, Assimilation, and the Complexities of Acculturation in a Multi-ethnic Society 41

KRISTIAN GERNER

Between Poland and Hungary: The Process of Jewish Integration from a Comparative Perspective 61

GUY MIRON

The Ashkenaz of the South: Hungarian Jewry in the Long Nineteenth Century 83

VICTOR KARÁDY

Jews and Poles, 1860–1914: Assimilation, Emancipation, Antisemitism 121

THEODORE R. WEEKS

Jewish Women in Poland and Hungary 143

KATALIN FENYVES

Morality, Motherland, and Freedom: The Arduous and Triumphant Journey of Michael Heilprin to America 159

FERENC RAJ AND HOWARD LUPOVITCH

- Gender and Scholarship in the Goldziher Household: Jewish Men and Women in Late Nineteenth- and Early Twentieth-Century Hungarian Academia 179
KATALIN FRANCISKA RAC

JEWISH RELIGIOUS LIFE

- Polish Hasidism and Hungarian Orthodoxy in a Borderland: The Munkács Rabbinate 199
LEVI COOPER
- Polish 'Progressive' Judaism and Hungarian Neolog Judaism: A Comparison 225
BENJAMIN MATIS

JEWS IN POPULAR CULTURE

- Integration and Its Discontents: Humorous Magazines and Music Halls as Reflections of the Ambiguous Transformation of Budapest Jews into Magyars of the Jewish Faith 243
MARY GLUCK
- Cabaret Nation: The Jewish Foundations of Kabaret Literacki, 1920–1939 273
BETH HOLMGREN
- The Politics of Exclusion: The Turbulent History of Hungarian and Polish Film, 1896–1945 289
SUSAN M. PAPP AND ANTONY POLONSKY

THE INTERWAR YEARS

- Abnormal Times: Intersectionality and Anti-Jewish Violence in Hungary and Poland, 1918–1922 313
EMILY GIOIELLI
- Suicides of the Polish and Hungarian Types: Jewish Self-Destruction and Social Cohesion in Interwar Warsaw and Budapest 329
DANIEL ROSENTHAL

THE HOLOCAUST AND ITS AFTERMATH

- On the Margin of a Historic Friendship: Polish Jewish Refugees in Hungary during the Second World War 349
TAMÁS KOVÁCS

Placing the Ghetto: Warsaw and Budapest, 1939–1945	365
TIM COLE
Warsaw and Budapest, 1939–1945: Two Ghettos, Two Policies, Two Outcomes	381
LÁSZLÓ KARSAI
Polish and Hungarian Poets on the Holocaust	395
GEORGE GÖMÖRI
‘Anti-Fascist Literature’ as Holocaust Literature? The Holocaust in the Hungarian Socialist Literary Marketplace, 1956–1970	409
RICHARD S. ESBENSHADE
Holocaust Remembrance in Hungary after the Fall of Communism	427
ZSUZSANNA AGORA
‘Nicht vor dem Kind!’ Testimonies on the Yellow-Star Houses of Budapest	455
GWEN JONES
‘Non-Remembering’ the Holocaust in Hungary and Poland	471
ANDREA PETŐ
Jews in Museums: Narratives of Nation and ‘Jewishness’ in Post-Communist Hungarian and Polish Public Memory	481
ANNA MANCHIN

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

Polish and Hungarian Jews: So Different, Yet So Interconnected: An Interview with István Deák	503
HOWARD LUPOVITCH

PART II NEW VIEWS

Polish National Antisemitism	515
IRENEUSZ KRZEMIŃSKI

PART III OBITUARIES

Ben-Zion Gold	545
ANTONY POLONSKY

Fred Schwartz	548
TOMASZ KUNCEWICZ
Notes on the Contributors	549
Index	555