

Contents

Foreword.....	v
List of figures and tables.....	iii

Chapter 1

Governments, Archaeologists, and the Lasting Remains of Ancient Empires in the Middle East	1
Introduction: Identity crisis in the modern Middle East.....	1
Historical background: the rise of nationalism in the Middle East	3
Iran's first modern state and archaeology: the establishment of laws and the administrative structure	5
Archaeologists and the professional ethics	8
Why the archaeology of Persian empires needs to be deconstructed?	11

Chapter 2

Take Your feet off Me! Achaemenids Depicted in Reliefs and Inscriptions.....	15
Historical introduction	15
The rise of the Achaemenid Empire	17
'T': the symbol of the up and coming power structure.....	22
Reliefs, palaces, and inscriptions: the first indicators of a new empire	34
Subjectivity of materials versus objectivity of human beings	44

Chapter 3

Get off Your Horse! Sasanian Propaganda in Artistic Remains	47
Historical background: A brief introduction to the Parthians	47
The Sasanian Empire: a socio-political review based on material culture	50
Mechanisms of political and social suppression in the Sasanian Empire.....	57
The ideal man/the ideal woman	58
Sasanian propaganda in artistic remains.....	63
The King's images: Propaganda as an imposing historical fact.....	67
The concept of enemy.....	69
Summary	72

Chapter 4

Nationalism and the Reproduction of the Ancient Kings/Empires by Iran's Modern States	75
Introduction	75
Historical Background: Shah , curiosity about history and archaeology as an imported commodity	76
Fath-Ali Shah and Naser al- Din Shah reliefs	78
Qajar reliefs as negative heritage	81
Iranian nationalism and the archaeology of the Achaemenid and Sasanian periods	83
Islamic Revolution and Achaemenid and Sasanian material culture as negative heritage	87
Summing Up	91

Chapter 5

Kings Riding Bikes: Towards the Deconstruction of Official Nationalist Archaeology	93
The necessity of a politically-situated archaeology(ies)	94
Public archaeology(ies) as a necessity	97
Archaeology, sustainable development and future in developing countries	100
A practical approach towards a nongovernmental archaeology: A personal narrative	102
Summing up	105
Acknowledgement	107
Glossary	109
Geographical names	109
Historical places/archaeological sites	110
Names	112
Historical texts	114
Special historical terms	115
Bibliography	117
Index	141