

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	viii
 Introduction	 1
PÉTER CSERNE AND MAGDALENA MAŁECKA
 PART I
Searching for the right “paradigm”	7
 1 Knowledge claims in Law and Economics: gaps and bridges between theoretical and practical rationality	9
PÉTER CSERNE
 2 References to Kuhnian philosophy of science in the Law and Economics literature	31
PIOTR BYSTRANOWSKI
 PART II
Symmetric and asymmetric transfers of methods and concepts	51
 3 Disciplinary collisions: Blum, Kalven and the economic analysis of accident law at Chicago in the 1960s	53
ALAIN MARCIANO AND STEVEN G. MEDEMA
 4 Rights, entitlements and the law: the ambiguous status of legal elements in economic discourse	76
STEFANO SOLARI

5	Difficulties of reattachment: why is property law still a challenge for economic analysis of property rights?	95
	ALEKSANDAR STOJANOVIĆ

PART III

	Interdisciplinarity in normative reasoning: moral theory, economic theory and adjudication	113
--	---	------------

6	Value pluralism and the foundations of normative Law and Economics: the case of threshold deontology	115
	PATRICIA MARINO

7	Economic consequences as legal values: a legal inferentialist approach	135
	FABRIZIO ESPOSITO AND GIOVANNI TUZET

8	Is economic analysis of law relevant in Italian case law? Some remarks about consequentialism and equity	158
	SILVIA ZORZETTO

	Index	189
--	--------------	------------