

CONTENTS

List of Plates	viii
Acknowledgements	x
Series Foreword	xii
Introduction Thorez in the Biographical Matrix	1
1. Young Man in a Hurry	14
Childhood in a mining community	15
Teenage refugee	21
The birth of French communism	25
Private Maurice Thorez	29
Young militant	31
Member of the left faction	35
Regional leader	39
Trade unionist	42
2. The Hesitant Revolutionary	45
Lyon Congress	46
Maurice Thorez: Trotskyist?	49
'Notre bon collaborateur'	50
In the Russian capital	54
Campaign against war in Morocco	57
Maurice Thorez: Zinovievist?	59
Stalin against Thorez	64
Lille Congress	65
Nord by-election	67
3. Class against Class	70
Clash with Bukharin	72
Championing 'Class against Class'	74

Fugitive	79
Political prisoner	81
The 'turn' of 1930	84
Letter of resignation	87
The Barbé–Celor affair	91
Towards the Popular Front?	92
'Allow Maurice a rest'	97
4. Popular Front	100
February days	101
'Listen carefully, Maurice'	105
People's Front	108
The Popular Front government	113
Spanish solidarity	117
A time of heroisation	121
'Party of government'	126
5. Exile in the Promised Land	131
'Profound inner turmoil'	131
An 'unjust imperialist war'	134
Deserting the army	136
La Barbe	137
A second melody	140
Negotiations with the occupier	143
National Front for national liberation	145
A family in wartime	147
Ufa	149
Disbanding the Comintern	152
The long return	155
6. In the Corridors of Power	162
Battle of production	163
'Thorez to Power'	167
Minister of State	169
'Absolute Monarchy'	172
The Times interview	175
Expelled from government	178
Szklarska-Poręba	182
7. The Party of Maurice Thorez	185
Scapegoating Marty	186
Seeking reassurance from Stalin	190
'Insurrectional' strikes, 1947–48	192
'Peace hangs on a knife-edge'	195

Fiftieth birthday	200
Illness	203
'Il revient il revient il vient il va venir' (Louis Aragon)	208
A new routine	211
The Lecoeur affair	215
Back to the thirties	216
8. The Trauma of 1956	220
At the Twentieth Congress	221
Reinterpreting the Secret Speech	224
Seeking advice from Togliatti	225
The fight against 'byrth-contrôle'	227
The May Central Committee	230
'The report attributed to Khrushchev'	232
Polish October and Hungarian November	237
'A senile incapacity to rise to the level of the event'	239
International communist diplomat	242
9. Algeria and de Gaulle	247
Thorez and inter-war Algeria	249
'The part and the whole'	251
De Gaulle: 'a personal dictatorship that opens the way to fascism'	255
'I remain, but against my will'	258
The Casanova—Servin affair	261
Thorez and Khrushchev	269
10. Final Years and Legacy	274
'Common programme, not communist programme'	274
'Stalinism weighs heavily on us'	277
Modernising the party	279
In defence of French art	281
President Maurice Thorez	284
Legacy	286
Notes	292
Select Bibliography	331
Index	340