

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	American Exceptionalism and Stories of Ascendancy	3
	The Frontier Thesis and the Gunfighter	5
	Policing the World, On and Off Screen	7
	Not All Crimefighters are Created Equal	9
	To Police and “Eat the Other”	10
	Interdisciplinary Threads and Border Breaches	12
	Chapter Previews	18
2	Frontier Ambitions and Cowboy Narratives	25
	The American Adam as Western Cowboy	28
	The Classical Western’s Last Stand	34
	Lawlessness and the Crime Film	37
	The Pessimism and Critical Promise of Film Noir	41
3	Dirty Harry and the Urban Frontier	47
	Dirty Harry : A Wild West Cure for Urban Savagery	49
	The Reagan Era and the Global Frontier	57
	White Heroes as Lethal Weapons	59
	Die Hard Cowboys	61
	Precinct Life and Community Policing	65

4	Black Crimefighters: Portraits in Blue	73
	Sidney Poitier: A Model of Restraint	75
	Black Power, Blaxploitation, and the Hood	77
	Denzel Washington: The Superstar Black Crimefighter	82
5	Female Crimefighters Defending the Homefront	93
	Female Crimefighters on Screen: Battling to be Blue	94
	Uncovering Female Agency and Nurturing Violence	97
	Case of the Blues: Female Cops on the Small Screen	101
	Out of Sight: Black Female Crimefighters	105
	Shots Fired	107
6	Becoming American: Ethnic Others as Crimefighting Heroes	119
	Looking for a Contemporary Charlie Chan	122
	Native Blue: Transforming America's Original Frontier Other	124
	Latinos: America's Largest Invisible Other	127
	Jennifer Lopez: In and Out of Uniform	133
	Shades of Blue's Male Others	138
7	Globocops, La Frontera, and America's War on Drugs	145
	Working an Expanded World Beat	146
	America's Troubles at La Frontera	148
	Narcos : The War on Drugs	152
	Sicario : Descent into Darkness	159
	Global Trafficking: Comparing Performances of Nation	164
8	The War on Terror, Homegrown Racism, and the White Knight	173
	Jack Bauer: The Post-9/11 Rogue Hero	174
	24's Homegrown Enemies and Domestic Threats	176
	America Asks: What Would Jack Do?	180
	Racism in America: Police and Homegrown Terrorism	184

	Dark Blue's White Knight	186
	Training Day's Black Menace	189
	The Shield's Unredeemable Rogue	191
9	Recruiting the Other as Globocop	199
	Vin Diesel: The Multicultural Globocop	200
	Female Spies as Globocops	202
	Kathryn Bigelow's Action Films	203
	Zero Dark Thirty	204
	Maya: A Portrait of American Obsession	207
	Carrie Mathison: Protecting the Homeland	209
	Spy Games: Sex, Motherhood, and Mental Illness	211
	Homeland's Muslim Problem	216
	Mathison Performing the Nation	218
10	Policing the World: The Last (White) American Standing	227
	Arabs, Persians, and Muslims as Crimefighter Heroes	229
	The Looming Tower Looks Back (and Forward)	232
	White Males Still Take the Lead	234
	Pay Cable and Quality TV Experiments	237
	And the Jacks Keep Coming	240
	Jack Ryan: The CIA's Captain America	242
	What Jack is Telling America (and the World)	247
	Superheroes for a Superpower	248
	The Last Rogue Standing	252
	Selected Bibliography	259
	Index	291