

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

This is not an introduction xi

PART I: SETTING THE STAGE

1. The best definitions of branding and advertising you'll find 3
2. What we mean by authenticity 5

PART II: WHY AUTHENTICITY

3. Because it's what we need and resist most 11
4. Because branding and advertising are ready for an authenticity revolution 14
5. Because the survival of your business depends on it 18

PART III: WHAT AUTHENTICITY REQUIRES

6. Authenticity requires purpose 23
7. What your brand's purpose is not 24
8. Find your hill and defend it 26
9. What's your exploding scoreboard? 28
10. Understand your audience 31
11. Name the problem and how you solve it 33
12. Seek conflict 34
13. Creation over disruption 35
14. Put yourself in the shoes of your customer and ask, "So what?" 37

- 15. Use it or lose it 38
- 16. Remember, people would rather like than hate you 39
- 17. Know your role, and don't try to be the hero 40
- 18. You can't succeed without emotion 42
- 19. Being emotional doesn't mean being saccharine 45
- 20. Authenticity requires avoiding business jargon 46

PART IV: FIXING AN INAUTHENTIC BRAND

- 21. Consider the new reality about how people make decisions 51
- 22. Cause with caution 52
- 23. Remember, a company without a story is a company without a strategy 54
- 24. Be honest about whether your current brand story is boring 55
- 25. Trim the fat 57
- 26. Kill your darlings 58
- 27. Don't try to be funny 60
- 28. Nobody ever played air guitar to a logo 63
- 29. This is not a generic brand video 64
- 30. There's beauty in simplicity 66
- 31. Speaking of beauty... 68
- 32. There is no such thing as speed farming or abracadabra marketing 70
- 33. What Frank Lloyd Wright can teach us about branding 72
- 34. Play to the audience, not the amps (or, what the Ramones can teach us about branding) 73

PART V: BREAKING BAD HABITS, BUILDING BETTER ONES

- 35. Take a chance on your customers 79
- 36. Beware the fool's gold of easy brilliance 80
- 37. Create hot, edit cold 81
- 38. It's an act of daring to be sincere 82
- 39. Authenticity and memorability 83
- 40. Consider why your dog stares at you when he poops 85
- 41. Know the proper role of research 87
- 42. Know your "80 years young" boundaries 88
- 43. Avoid these words 90
- 44. Avoid inauthenticity in photos and imagery 92
- 45. Get your white tuxedo dirty 93

- 46. Don't fall in love with celebrities 95
- 47. Don't spill your candy in the lobby 97
- 48. A loud voice can make even the truth sound foolish 99
- 49. Don't get that person. Be that person. 101
- 50. Shut up, he explained 102
- 51. Maybe people don't want to join your conversation 103
- 52. Say yes to criticism, no to condemnation 104

PART VI: SELECT PROFILES IN AUTHENTICITY

- 53. The customer experience paradox 109
- 54. The non-flashy warehouse club 109
- 55. HBO and authentic brand evolution 111
- 56. LEGO: Saved by loyal customers 112
- 57. The surprise and delight of Zappos 113
- 58. Airbnb and the importance of not giving up 115
- 59. CrossFit and the art of staying out of the way 116

PART VII: PROFILES THAT SHOW THE PERILS OF INSINCERITY

- 60. Spotting an insincere brand 121
- 61. BOA, the bank opposed to authenticity 122
- 62. Segway, the overhyped machine 123
- 63. McDonald's, not exactly lovin' it 125
- 64. United Airlines and the abandonment of purpose 127
- 65. Sears and a brand magic that was lost in transition 129
- 66. Facebook fakery 131
- 67. Saturn, god of both wealth and dissolution 133
- 68. Monsanto, where lawyers control the message 135

PART VIII: USING MEDIA AUTHENTICALLY

- 69. The medium is a message, not the message 139
- 70. Media 101 140
- 71. Media and authenticity 143
- 72. Media by the numbers 145
- 73. Media traps to avoid 147
- 74. Media and your message 151

PART IX: ASSESSMENT TOOLS

- 75. A general guide for assessing marketing ideas 157
- 76. Grading the authenticity of your marketing 158

- 77. Your authenticity checklist/gut check 162
- 78. An abridged Story Workshop® 164
- 79. Watch out for tactical tricks 166

PART X: CLOSING THOUGHTS

- 80. The moral of the story 171
- 81. Share your story with us 173

Thank You 175

Notes 177

Index 187

About the Authors 197