

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: Coping with Loss	1
	Roslyn L. Knutson, David McInnis and Matthew Steggle
 Part I "Gone and Loste": The Nature and Forms of Lostness
2	Shakespeare's Ruined Quires	23
	Misha Teramura
3	Lost Playhouse Manuscripts	41
	Paul Werstine
4	Richard Edwards' "Palamon and Arcyte" and the Semi-Textual Basis of Playing	55
	Jeanne H. McCarthy
5	"I haue lost it": Apologies, Appeals, and Justifications for Misplacing The Wild-Goose Chase and Other Plays	75
	Kara J. Northway

6	Like a Virgin: Lost and Reborn Ballads Kris McAbee	95
7	Rediscovering Lost Literature in the Stationers' Company Register Alexandra Hill	111
 Part II "To know wher a thinge is": Searching for Answers
8	Lost Plays and Other Lost Things: Ways of Being Lost William Ingram	131
9	Ludwig Becker's Shakespeare Ian Donaldson	139
10	William Smith, "The Freeman's Honour," and the Lord Chamberlain's Men David Kathman	161
11	They Are All Fossils: A Paleontology of Early Modern Drama Matthew Steggle	173
12	"Histories out of the scriptures": Biblical Drama in the Repertory of the Admiral's Men, 1594–1603 Paul Whitfield White	191
13	Magic Mirrors, Moors, and Marriage: A Lost English Play Surviving in German David McInnis	215
14	Making Early Modern "Verbatim Theater," or, "Keep the Widow Waking" Lucy Munro and Emma Whipday	233
	Select Bibliography	251
	Index	255