

Contents

Foreword VII

Paul Freston

Acknowledgements XI

List of Figures and Tables XII

Notes on Contributors XIII

Introduction: Australian Charismatic Movements as a Space of Flows 1

Mark Hutchinson, Cristina Rocha and Kathleen Openshaw

PART 1

Situating Pentecostal Charismatic Christianities in Australia

- 1 Reframing Howard Carter: Alternative “Routes” for the Emergence of the Australasian Charismatic Renewal 25

Mark P. Hutchinson

- 2 Australian Proto-Pentecostals: The Contribution of the Catholic
Apostolic Church 53

Peter Elliott

- 3 City, Portal and Hub: Brisbane and Catholic Charismatic
Renewal 69

John Maiden

- 4 Strong Church or Niche Market? The Demography of the Pentecostal
Church in Australia 88

Andrew Singleton

PART 2

Home-grown Australian PCMs

- 5 A Match Made in Heaven: Why Popular Music is Central to the Growth in Pentecostal Charismatic Christianities 109

Daniel Thornton

- 6 Marketing and Branding Practices in Australian Pentecostal Suburban
Megachurches for Supporting International Growth 126
 Mairead Shanahan
- 7 Andrew Evans: The Making of an Australian Pentecostal
Politician 148
 Denise A. Austin
- 8 “The Work of the Spirit”: Hillsong Church and a Spiritual Formation for the Marketplace 171
 Tanya Riches
- 9 The Wacky, the Frightening and the Spectacular: Hearing God’s Voice in Australian Pentecostal Churches 194
 Tania Harris

PART 3

A Meeting between Pentecostalism from the Global South and North

- 10 “Living the Dream”: Post-Millennial Brazilians at Hillsong
College 217
 Cristina Rocha
- 11 Extraordinary Sacrifice and Transnational Spiritual Capital in the Universal Church of the Kingdom of God 236
 Kathleen Openshaw
- 12 “The demon is growing with sins, but there are angels around”:
Bundjalung Pentecostalism as Faith and Paradox 257
 Mahnaz Alimardanian
- Epilogue 274
 Allan H. Anderson
- Index 287