

Contents

	Acknowledgements	ix
1	A Manageable Catastrophe	1
	Life Expectancy and Public Opinion	5
	Structure of This Book	8
2	Denial and How It Is Overcome	11
	Private Experience and Public Concern	11
	Giving Meaning to AIDS	14
	'Normalizing' AIDS	17
	Sex and Power	19
	Domesticating AIDS – and Its Costs	22
	The Media and Overcoming Denial	27
	Pavement Radio	32
3	AIDS Activists: Reformers and Revolutionaries	34
	Confrontation and Its Limits	34
	'Positive Positive Women'	40
	AIDS and Elections	42
	Activist Networks, Local and Global	46
	Transformations in Governance	53
	New Solidarities	61

4	How African Democracies Withstand AIDS	66
	The Issue of a Lifetime	66
	'Weber in Reverse'	69
	How Do African States 'Really' Function?	76
	Democratic Demographics	79
	The Economics of Democracy	86
	'New Variant Famine'	89
5	The Political Benefits of AIDS	94
	Ugandan Myths	94
	ABC: Carefully Mixed Messages	98
	'Fighting' AIDS	105
	On the Difficulties of Showing Success	108
	Treatment Regimes	111
6.	Power, Choices and Survival	117
	Lutaaya, 'Alone'	117
	Democracies Can Manage AIDS	119
	Democracies Do Not Prevent HIV	121
	Notes	124
	Bibliography	133
	Index	144