Contents

Contents ....................................................................................................................................... 5

Preface
Thomas Kieselbach & Simo Mannila .......................................................................................... 11

Employment and Health in the Enlarged EU - A Call for Action
Lennart Levi .................................................................................................................................. 17

1. BACKGROUND AND THEORETICAL DEVELOPMENT
   OF UNEMPLOYMENT RESEARCH ......................................................................................... 23

Plea for a Renewed Research Agenda on Unemployment and Health
Ralph A. Catalano ......................................................................................................................... 25

Unemployment and Health: What are the New Challenges and Opportunities for Health Systems in Europe?
Carole J. Maignan .......................................................................................................................... 35

Introducing Four Psychologies of Unemployment and their Implications for Intervention
Kesi Mahendran ............................................................................................................................. 53

Mortality and Unemployment in the Context of Macroeconomic Change:
The International Evidence
M. Harvey Brenner ......................................................................................................................... 73

Economic Antecedents of the Swedish Sex Ratio
Ralph A. Catalano & Tim Bruckner .............................................................................................. 93

Unemployment and Health: A Gender and Life Course Perspective
Anne Hammarström ....................................................................................................................... 105
Gender Aspects of Unemployment and Health in East and West Germany
Cornelia Bormann ........................................................................................................... 117

The Explanation of Unemployment Effects in the Latent Function Model of Marie Jahoda - A Critical Assessment
Alois Wacker ...................................................................................................................... 129

Measuring the Access to the Manifest and Latent Functions of Employment Among Middle-Aged Portuguese Unemployed
Marta Sousa-Ribeiro & Joaquim Luís Coimbra ................................................................. 143

Time Structure or Meaningfulness? Critically Reviewing Research on Mental Health and Everyday Life in Unemployment
Benedikt G. Rogge ............................................................................................................ 157

Informal Labour and Health Effects: Introducing a Research Problem
Simo Mannila .................................................................................................................... 173

Long-term Youth Unemployment in East and West Germany: A Qualitative Analysis of Personal and Situational Factors
Gert Beelmann ................................................................................................................ 181

The Submerged Economy as a Trap and a Buffer: Comparative Evidence on Long-Term Youth Unemployment and the Risk of Social Exclusion in Southern and Northern Europe
Vando Borghi & Thomas Kieselbach .................................................................................. 193

The Design of Previous Job and Vocational Behaviour during Unemployment
Annika Lantz & Kin Andersson .......................................................................................... 205

The Re-Structuring of Occupational Life and Mental Health in Insecure Employment
Lívia de Oliveira Borges & Janine Maranhão ................................................................. 219

Quality of Life of the Long-Term Unemployed
Božena Buchtová .................................................................................................................. 235
2. UNEMPLOYMENT AND HEALTH ............................................. 249

Unemployment and Health in East Germany:
The Saxony Longitudinal Study
Hendrik Berth, Peter Förster, Ellen Hämmerling, Elmar Brähler,
Markus Zenger & Yve Stöbel-Richter ..................................... 251

Association of Employment Status and Hypertension in Young Males
Yücel Demiral, Ahmet Soysal, Reyhan Uçku, Gazanfer Aksakoğlu,
Dilek Soysal & Mehmet Köseoğlu ........................................... 263

Studies on Unemployment and its Adverse Health Effects in China
Zhijun Zhou, Qiang-en Wu & Dong Chen .................................. 269

The Relationship between Downsizing,
Psychosocial Stress at Work and Health
Nico Dragano & Johannes Siegrist ......................................... 277

Organisational Downsizing and Psychosocial Work Characteristics:
A Longitudinal Study of Japanese White-Collar Workers
Yasumasa Otsuka, Yuko Yamate & Shotaro Kosugi .................... 287

A Follow-Up Study on Predictors for Long-Term
Unemployment and Lifestyle Changes of Unemployed
Persons Following Bankruptcy in Japan
Tatsuya Ishitake, Tsunetaka Matoba, Akira Shigemoto &
Kaori Nagatomi ................................................................. 297

Differences in the Patterns of Primary
Health Care Use Between the Employed and the Unemployed
Juha Nyman, Unto Häkkinen, Pirkko Alha & Ilmo Keskimäki ........ 307

Job Insecurity, Centrality of Work and
Relations to Work-Related Attitudes
Kathleen Otto & Claudia Dalbert ........................................... 321
Mortality of Unemployed Men and Women in Relation to their Former Occupation in Finland in 1996–2000
Tiina Pensola & Veijo Notkola

Unemployment, Therapy and Relapses of Alcohol-Addicted Inpatients: Results from a Prospective Longitudinal Study
Dieter Henkel, Uwe Zemlin & Peer Dornbusch

Unemployment and the Effects of Activation Policy on Quality of Life and Self-Performance
Mika Ala-Kauhaluoma & Antti Parpo

3. INTERVENTIONS TO LIMIT THE ADVERSE HEALTH IMPACT

Health Promotion for the Unemployed: Needs, Strategies and Evidence on Effectiveness and Efficiency
Thomas Elkeles & Wolf Kirschner

Preventive Group Intervention Promoting Quality of Employment and Mental Health Among Graduates of Vocational Schools
Jukka Vuori, Petri Koivisto & Elina Nykyri

Health-Oriented Counselling of Unemployed Workers and Employees on Short-Term Contracts
Peter Kuhnert, Türkan Ayan & Michael Kastner

Changes in Mental Health: Young People in Labour Market Schemes in West and East Germany
Heike Behle

Social Support and Organisational Integration of Long-Term Unemployed in the Volunteering Sector
Katrin Rothländer & Peter Richter

Solution-Oriented Counselling of Unemployed under Perspectives of Hope
Sibylle Tobler
Contents

Solidarity Economy as a Solution for the Unemployment and Precariousness of Employment in Brazil: A Matter of Health Prevention
Maria Alice de Almeida & Ângela Patricia Deiró Damasceno .................................................. 467

Critical Differences: The Development of a Community Critical Psychological Perspective on the Psychological Costs of Unemployment
David Fryer .......................................................................................................................... 473

4. ORGANISATIONAL RESTRUCTURING AND HEALTH: SOCIAL CONVOY AND OCCUPATIONAL TRANSITIONS ...... 491

Effects of Socially Sensitive Enterprise Restructuring on Unemployment and Health: The ILO Perspective
Nikolai Rogovsky .................................................................................................................. 493

Health Promotion and Health Initiatives in Restructuring Organisations: Potentials, Barriers and Recommendations
Debora Jeske & Thomas Kieselbach ..................................................................................... 501

Restructuring and Individual Health: The ERICSSON Case of Restructuring
Elisabeth Armgarth ............................................................................................................. 517

Strategies and Efforts of the Statutory Health Insurance in Germany: The Example of the Federal Association of Health Insurance Funds (BKK BV)
Jan-Frederik Prüßmann ....................................................................................................... 527

Health-Promoting Transitional Counselling in a Steel Work Company Undergoing Restructuring
Thomas Kieselbach & Gert Beelmann .................................................................................. 537

Annex .................................................................................................................................. 549
About the Authors ................................................................................................................. 551