

Contents

---

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS   | ix  |
| INTRODUCTION:THE DISCOVERY OF HISTORY                           | 1   |
| PART ONE: FINDING EQUIVALENCE                                       | 29  |
| 1From Kangaku to Tōyōshi : The Search for History | 31  |
| 2Tōyōshi : The Convergence of East and West              | 68  |
| PART TWO: CREATING DIFFERENCE                                       | 105 |
| Interlude: Difference and Tradition                                 | 107 |
| 3Shina : The Separation of Japan from China              | 115 |
| 4Shina : The Narration of Japan's Emergence              | 153 |
| 5Shina : The Authorization of a Discourse                | 188 |
| 6Archeology: The Institutionalization of Shina           | 228 |
| EPILOGUE: THE RENOVATION OF THE PAST                                | 263 |
| WORKS CITED   | 285 |
| INDEX   | 297 |