

CONTENTS

Preface x

- 1 Of Those Whose Acts Traverse Frontiers 1
 - What does 'without frontiers' signify? 2
 - Professions, citizens, activists 4
 - Citizens without frontiers 5
 - Interrogating and transgressing frontiers 6
 - 'We, the people' and 'we, the connected' 9
 - Making citizens activists 11
 - Three genres of writing 12
 - Act 1. Of treason: WikiLeaks 15
 - Act 2. Of rage: Rachel Corrie 18
 - Act 3. Of disobedience: Conscientious or civil? 20
- 2 'We, the People' 28
 - What is called sovereignty? 28
 - Narrating sovereignties 30
 - How did the nation conquer the state? 32
 - The invention of 'we, the people' as the nation 37
 - Counter-narratives of other peoples, popolo, peuple and populism 41
 - Sovereignty as a question of a whole and its parts 45
 - Act 4. Of defence: Minuteman Civil Defense Corps 47
 - Act 5. Of censoring: The Golden Shield Project 50
 - Act 6. Of espionage: Stuxnet 52
 - Act 7. Of assassination: Drones 54
 - Act 8. Of writing: Banksy 56
 - Act 9. Of solidarity: Strangers into Citizens 58

- 3 'We, the Connected' 70
 Are we all connected? 71
 Of ethical and political subjectivities 75
 Counter-narratives of connectivity: Cyberhackers and hacktivists 79
 Genealogies, topologies, connectivity 83
 Paradoxes, multiplicities, heterogeneities 86
 Politics without 'we, the people'? 87
 Act 10. Of identification: We are all Khaled Said 89
 Act 11. Of hacking: LulzSec 91
 Act 12. Of defiance: No One Is Illegal 94
 Act 13. Of staging: Climate Camp 97
- 4 Enacting Citizenship 108
 Citizenship as political subjectivity 109
 Disobedience as enacting citizenship 111
 Beginning something new 113
 Subjectivity, performativity, enactment 119
 Acts of citizenship 130
 Investigating acts 131
 Activism as traversal citizenship 135
 Act 14. Of speech: Waging Peace 136
 Act 15. Of fury: Mariyam Manike 138
- 5 Citizens without Frontiers 147
 Traversing frontiers 149
 Why political subjectivity without frontiers? 150
 Why acts of citizenship? 151
 Why without frontiers? 153
 Why traversing frontiers? 154
 Why not global activists? 158
 Act 16. Of declaration: 'We, the Roma Nation' 161
 Act 17. Of resistance: International Solidarity Movement 164
 Act 18. Of sharing: Open Rights Group 166

6	Emancipating (Acts of) Citizenship	174
	Taking the state apart – from the nation	174
	Emancipate your colonies!	176
	Occupy everywhere: The enjoyment of being political	178
	The shaking of nations	180
	Between no longer and not yet	182
	Act 19. Of enfranchisement: If the world could vote	188
	Act 20. Of music: Barenboim without words	191
	Bibliography	197
	Index	219