Contents

List of Figures and Tables vii

Foreword by Pieter Spierenburg viii

Acknowledgments xiii

Notes on the Contributors xiv

Introduction: A Global History of Execution and the Criminal Corpse 1
Richard Ward

OPEN This chapter is available open access under a CC BY license via palgraveconnect.com

1 Punishing the Dead: Execution and the Executed Body in Eighteenth-Century Ireland 37
James Kelly

2 ‘For the Benefit of Example’: Crime-Scene Executions in England, 1720–1830 71
Steve Poole

3 The Gibbet in the Landscape: Locating the Criminal Corpse in Mid-Eighteenth-Century England 102
Zoe Dyndor

OPEN This chapter is available open access under a CC BY license via palgraveconnect.com

4 Never Equal before Death: Three Experiences of Dying as Seen Through Eighteenth-Century French Executions 126
Pascal Bastien

5 The Ill-Treated Body: Punishing and Utilising the Early Modern Suicide Corpse 147
Alexander Kästner and Evelyne Luef

6 Execution and its Aftermath in the Nineteenth-Century British Empire 170
Clare Anderson
Contents

7  Strangled by the Chinese and Kept ‘Alive’ by the British: Two Infamous Executions and the Discourse of Chinese Legal Despotism 199
   Song-Chuan Chen

8  Dismembering and Remembering the Body: Execution and Post-Execution Display in Africa, c. 1870–2000 220
   Stacey Hynd

9  Burying the Past? The Post-Execution History of Nazi War Criminals 249
   Caroline Sharples

Bibliography 272

Name Index 301

Subject Index 305