Contents

List of figures viii
List of tables ix
Contributing authors x
Preface – introduction from the editors xv
CAROLIN BECKER-LEIFHOLD AND MARK HEUER xviii
Acknowledgements xviii

PART I

The fast fashion phenomena and its consequences from a sustainability point of view 1

1 Rana Plaza as a threat to the fast fashion model? An analysis of institutional responses to the disaster in Germany 3
NORA LOHMEYER AND ELKE SCHÜSSLER

2 Evaluating fast fashion: examining its micro and the macro perspective 15
SHIPRA GUPTA AND JAMES W. GENTRY

PART II

Fast fashion and the consumer 25

3 Mind the gap: fashion consumers’ intentions and behaviours 27
MARK SUMNER

4 Drivers and obstacles of ethical fashion consumption 36
ZARA BERBERYAN, SARAH MARGARETHA JASTRAM AND BARRY A. FRIEDMAN

5 Knowing better, but behaving emotionally: strong emotional undertone in the fast fashion consumption 49
KIRSI NIINIMÄKI

Eco-friendly and fair digitalisiert durch: IDS Luzern
Contents

6 From myopia to boycott: consumer acceptance of, and resistance to, fast fashion
ROSE HIQUET, JOHANNA BRUNNEDER AND WON-YONG OH  58

7 Enabling sustainable behaviours through m-commerce app design: focus on the fast fashion industry
CHRISTOPHER J. PARKER AND CLAUDIA E. HENNINGER  69

PART III
Alternative models for a sustainable fashion consumption  81

8 Consumer colour and style preferences: a new approach to tackling the textile waste conundrum
TRACY DIANE CASSIDY  83

9 Looking backwards and forwards in sustainable fashion: a comparison of two social enterprises to circulate used clothes
HEIKE DERWANZ  92

10 The becoming of repair: understanding garment mending through a practice theory perspective
MARIUM DURRANI  101

11 Innovative sustainability in South Asian garment supply chains: the case of MAS Holdings in Sri Lanka
ENRICO FONTANA  112

12 Sustainable fashion: a hybrid business model for social, economic and environmental responsibility in Haiti
MARY CONWAY DATO-ON AND ISABEL ARTEMIS WALKER  124

13 Product service systems: a viable business model for fashion brands?
NAOMI BRAITHWAITE AND ANNIKA SCHLEMMANN  132

14 Redirecting the fashion industry towards eco-effective practices
MARY S. RUPPERT-STROESCU  144

15 To wear or to own? Influences of values on the attitudes towards and the engagement in collaborative fashion consumption
SAMIRA IRAN AND SONJA M. GEIGER  153
PART IV
Supply chain insights 163

16 Evaluating social transparency in global fashion supply chains 165
DENIS BOZIC AND ALEXIS H. BATEMAN

17 A bank for fabrics: innovation and waste prevention 174
GABRIELA AMOROZO FRANCISCO AND SYLMARA GONÇALVES-DIAS

18 From sustainable sourcing to sustainable consumption: the case of DBL Group in Bangladesh 183
NIKA SALVETTI AND ANDRÉ NIJHOF

Conclusion from the editors 195
CAROLIN BECKER-LEIFHOLD AND MARK HEUER

Index 199