
Contents

Tables	viii
Contributors	ix
Preface	xii
Abbreviations	xv
1 Civil society engagement and democratic governance: An introduction	1
G. Shabbir Cheema
Part I: Civil society and global governance	21
2 The role of civil society in global governance	23
Vesselin Popovski
3 The role of transnational civil society in promoting transparency and accountability in global governance	44
John Clark
4 International advocacy NGOs and network credibility in global governance and problem-solving	58
L. David Brown

Part II: Legal empowerment, norms and capacity of civil society	75
5 Civil society and the challenge of changing power relations between the poor and the élite	77
Naresh Singh
6 International norm-setting by civil society organizations: Lessons for strengthening norms pertaining to legal empowerment of the poor	90
William Ascher
7 Civil society innovations in governance leadership: International demonstrations of integral development, the technology of participation and social artistry	112
Robertson Work
8 Civil society, donor assistance and electoral and parliamentary processes	131
Massimo Tommasoli
Part III: Experiences in Asia	147
9 Civil society, policy dialogue and democratic change in Bangladesh	149
Rehman Sobhan
10 China's dilemma over civil society organizations	174
Denny Roy
11 Civil society engagement in democratic transition in Pakistan Ahmed Bilal Mehboob	193
12 Civil society engagement in Malaysia	214
Denison Jayasooria
13 Civil society engagement in Japan	232
Jin Sato
Part IV: Experience in Africa	247
14 Civil society in Africa: Constraints and opportunities for democratic change	249
Goran Hyden

15 The role of civil society in national and local development in Africa	265
Kadmiel Harrison Wekwete
Index	280